The sound of car stereos blaring, friends chatting, tires squealing and a select group hollering "yee-haw" as they race across the parking lot, are the sounds of MCHS students arriving for the first day of school. As 1062 young people straggled through the "doors of doom" with our destination unknown for the year ahead of us.

Mr. Ken Hoffman took over the position of Principal after the retirement of Mr. Roger Gallatin. Leaving us all not knowing what to expect from him, we quickly adjusted. The Egg-McMuffin that the always late but hungry person threw in their locker three weeks ago as they ran to class 15 minutes late won't be a problem this year, since food was banned from the hallways.

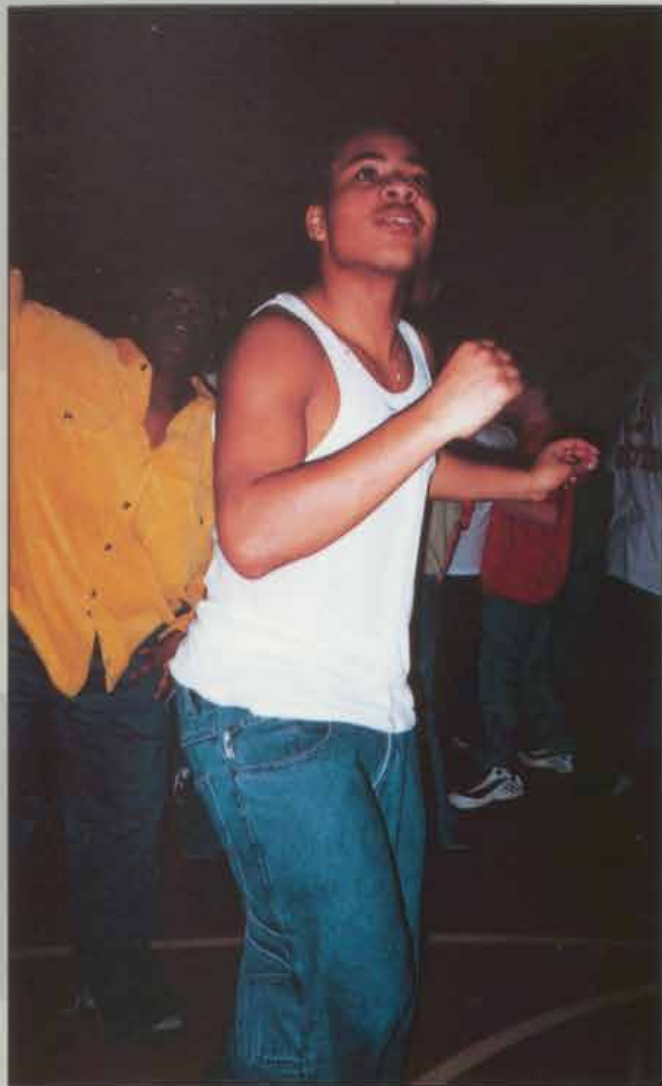

After last years football season, we were all not knowing what to expect from our team this year. During the first game of the season the Cubs proved their destination was to be winners. With the bright lights glaring down on the field the roar of the crowd grows louder than ever, as Corner back Keith Cox sprints down the field after an interception scoring the first touchdown of the season.

Taking time out to help others, Senior Wilbur Dattilo volunteered to wrap presents for State Hospital residence. Many NHS members volunteered their time to wrap presents.

Muscles proved to be the key to winning this years volleyball sectionals. This marked the teams first title since 1980.

Unknown

Breakin' it down, Sophomore Lionel Smith has a good time at the first dance of the year. The dances, hosted by Student Council were a huge success.

Trading places at the sectional pep rally, the cheerleaders donned basketball uniforms instead of their usual skirts and pom-poms.

Freshmen Advisory members Ani Bridges and Katherine Fourhman deliver flowers for Valentines Day. Many sent flowers to their sweeties to say "I love you."

"Let's Go Cubs," rang out as Seniors Kathy Minor and Kevin Colen cheered on the Cubs. The Cubs were backed by an enthusiastic crowd during their home games.

The ISTEP soon rolled around with the Juniors and Seniors exempt from taking them the Sophomore classes embarked on a two and a half day journey of test taking. The results left some Sophomores not sure of what their future will be since test scores were low.

With the ISTEP out of the way the students of MCHS let their school spirit shine through. From the red and white streamers hung from anywhere they could be hung to the Homecoming float dubbing the sign "PHAT," the students of MCHS united together to support our team.

This year will be full of memories, good times and bad times, and beginnings and endings. Whether you are a Senior, Junior, Sophomore, or Freshmen one thing binds us together, all of us are embarking on a journey with our Destination Unknown.

"Eight ball corner pocket," is the thought that goes through Sophomore Jon Wooten's mind. Shooting pool was a popular pass time for many students.

Unknown

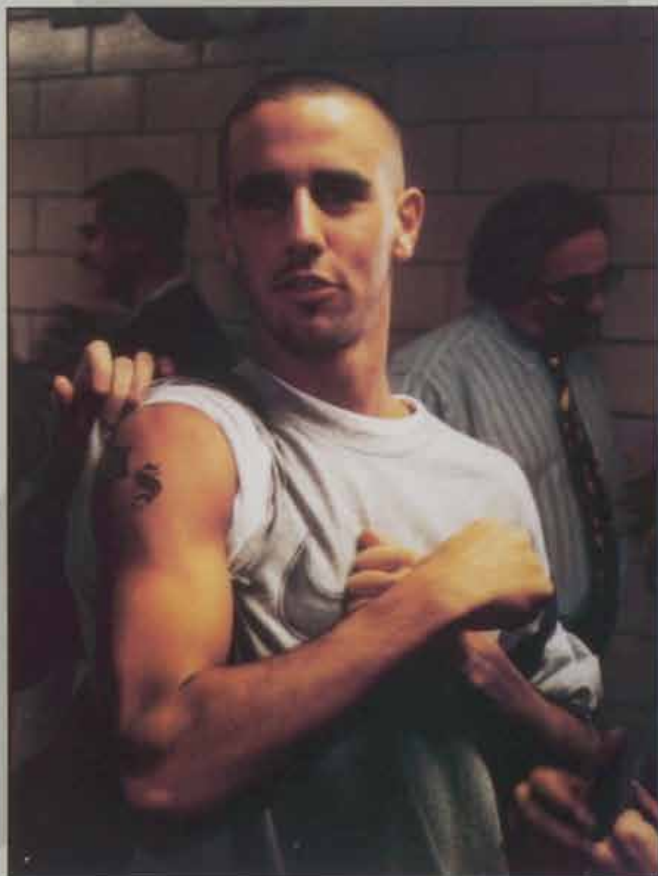

Being aggressive, Sophomore Whitney Geisler goes for the win. Her winning spirit was also key to the girls volleyball team.

Freshmen Amanda Martinez and Ashley Lytle help the teams of MCHS get fired up for the upcoming sectionals. The event was the first ever Sectional Bash.

Senior Mike Smith took a trip to Tattoo Charlie's, and came back with the initials M.S. forever inscribed on his arm. Tattoos are still a fascination to students at MCHS.

Junior Jeff Gray plays "daddy" to Annette Crooks' "Baby Think it Over". Many students could be caught goofing off to pass the time during snow days.

Who are we with?

PHOTOBOOTH

Sophomore Justin McKay and Senior Gaeli Welch represent a couple where the girl is older than the guy. They got together at a post-game dance and began dating at a Super Bowl party the next night.

Kristin Griffith is shown with her boyfriend Scott Bomholt, a senior at Southwestern High School. They began dating in November, a few months after he moved here.

Junior couple Amber Dionne and Greg Goodknight take a break from the endless drone of class. They enjoyed watching movies on the weekends when they weren't working.

Junior Lisa Mahoney and Senior Dustin Bentz spend time together before a Varsity boys basketball game. Lisa enjoyed watching Dustin wrestle and Dustin came to the games and watched Lisa cheer.

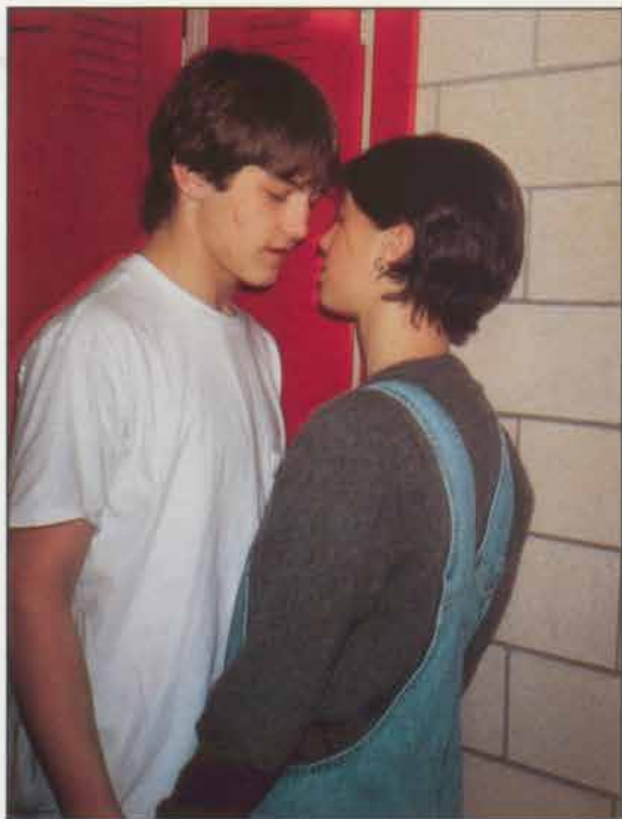

Junior Tim Baden and Freshman Heather Anderson share a friendly hug in the lobby during passing period. The couple could be seen sharing many hugs during and after school.

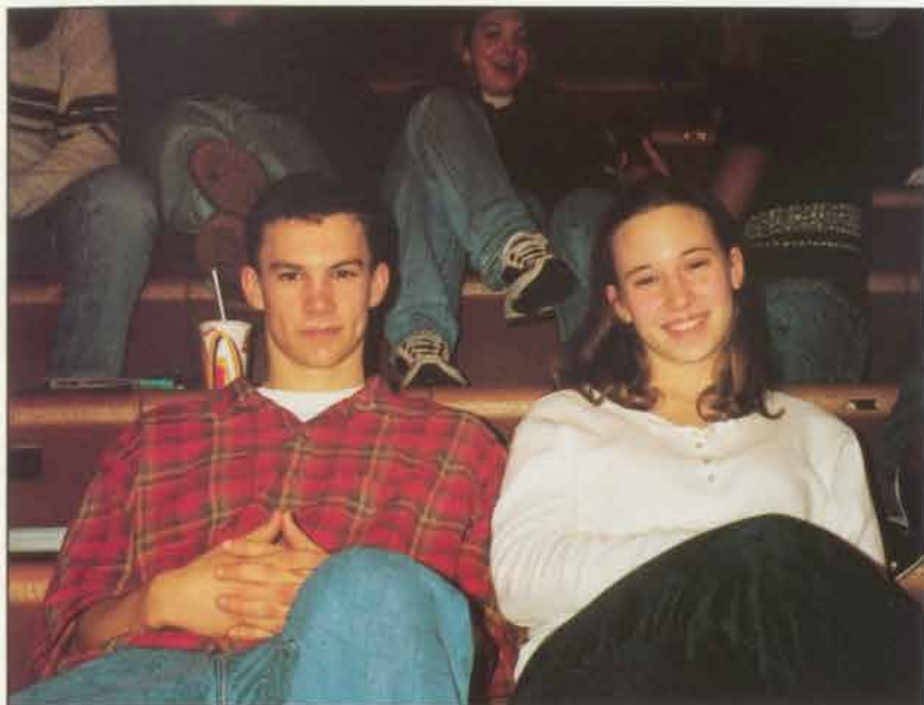

Juniors O'Retha Grace and Mike Hadden are seen together in the halls everyday. Very few couples make it to long-term status.

Senior Tacia Coker and Sophomore Ryan Mitchell gaze into each other's eyes after a quick kiss in the hall. Couples could be seen all over school by their lockers showing public displays of affection.

Senior Mike Casper and Sophomore Lindsay Imel enjoyed going to basketball games on the weekends. They have dated since Valentine's Day of the 96-97 school year.

Sophomores Lacey Riley and Stephan Sheets get their books between class. The couple has been together for several months and spend time together during school and out of school.

Whether we want to admit it or not, dating is a huge part of high school life.

However, each relationship is different. There are couples roaming the hallways that seem to have been together forever. You know, the ones who have been together since you've known them. Other couples will break up by the end of the week. There are also couples who are going out every other week or are fighting and yelling in the hallways every other day.

Where do we go for dates? There's the movie theatre, going out to eat in Clarksville or Louisville, going to each other's house, going shopping, going out to eat at one of our restaurants here in town, going to parties, or just hanging out somewhere like the old TG&Y parking lot or the old Sav-a-Lot parking lot.

Madison students also date people who don't attend this school. There are those who date people from other schools, some date people who are already out of school, and those who date people that are younger.

Senior Amanda Phillips and Junior Matt Schafer chat during passing period. The hallways at school are a very common place for couples to meet and talk. Many couples took advantage of the ten minutes between classes to share stories about their day.

Who will we be with?

What do we like?

Junior Kari Park shows Junior Allison Foley a trendy shirt from Maurices. Trendy clothing stores were a popular place for MCHS students to work as well as shop. Park began working at Maurices in February of '98.

Junior couple Jonathan Adams and Laura Sparks like to show the names of the stores where they shop on the front of their clothing. This was a very popular trend among MCHS students, and a good advertising opportunity for the stores.

Sophomore Erin Burchett displays her favorite article of clothing: a tie-dyed shirt. Many underclassmen chose to wear this style. The shirts tended to display the wearer's favorite music group.

How do you wear your hair? Is it in a layered, bobbed, buzzed, or bowl hair cut? Is it long, short, dyed another color, or dyed in some wild color like neon green? What kinds of jeans do you wear? Flared leg, tapered leg, straight leg or baggy fit? Freshman Stacy Griffith states, "I like my Abercrombie jeans because they are comfortable." Brand names on clothing was another popular style of dress. Letting people know where you shop and the brands you buy was an important statement to make.

What kind of car do you drive? A 1998 Pontiac Firebird or a 1989 Honda Civic? Is it your pride and joy or just your way of getting where you need to go? Senior Brandy Stockdale says, "My car is a piece of junk that only works sometimes and breaks down every five days."

There are so many choices to make in or daily lives. "What do I wear? Should I buy that car? I hope I look okay. How do I cut my hair? What color should I dye it tomorrow?"

What is so ironic is five years from now we will look back and say, "I can't believe I wore that," or, "I can't believe my hair looked like that!" Fads and fashions change with time. We all know that the things we wore in grade school are things we wouldn't be caught dead in now, and the things we wear now look nothing like what we'll be wearing in a few years. The cars that are cool now are going to be out of style as soon as Toyota and Ford and all the other car companies introduce their new ideas.

As we grow older, our tastes and opinions change. We will like totally different things as we change our positions in life. Our jobs will have something to do with the way we dress and wear our hair and the cars we drive. Whether the changes in our lives are in jobs, social status, or location, these changes will lead to us changing our tastes and preferences and our likes and dislikes in the future.

What is your favorite thing to wear?

Jenny Lee-

“My favorite article of clothing is my belt because it keeps my pants on.”

Melissa Enoch-

“My favorite article of clothing is my Doc Martens because they’ve been with me to every concert I’ve ever been to.”

Tarah Limerick-

“My favorite thing to wear is shoes because I like my red, yellow, and black shoes, and my Doc’s.”

Ben Hunter-

“Flannel shirts are my favorite things to wear.”

Jessica Johnson-

“My favorite thing to wear is jeans because there are so many different styles.”

Rex Buchanan-

“I like to wear shoes because I like the variety I can choose from.”

Danielle Miller-

“Tommy jeans are my favorite article of clothing because they are so comfortable.”

Freshman Derek Brooks shows off his Hoosier pride. His Indiana University sweatshirt was just one of many team sweatshirts and t-shirts seen worn by MCHS students.

Sophomore William Sands turns many heads in the halls of MCHS. His outrageous style and the ever-changing color of his hair loudly displayed his individuality.

What Will we like?

What are we doing?

What is your favorite thing to do on the weekends?

Caroline Goodknight-

"I like to go to basketball games."

Ryan Cooper-

"Sleep."

Kelly Hannah-

"I love to go to Cincinatti and going to the sauna."

David Rosser-

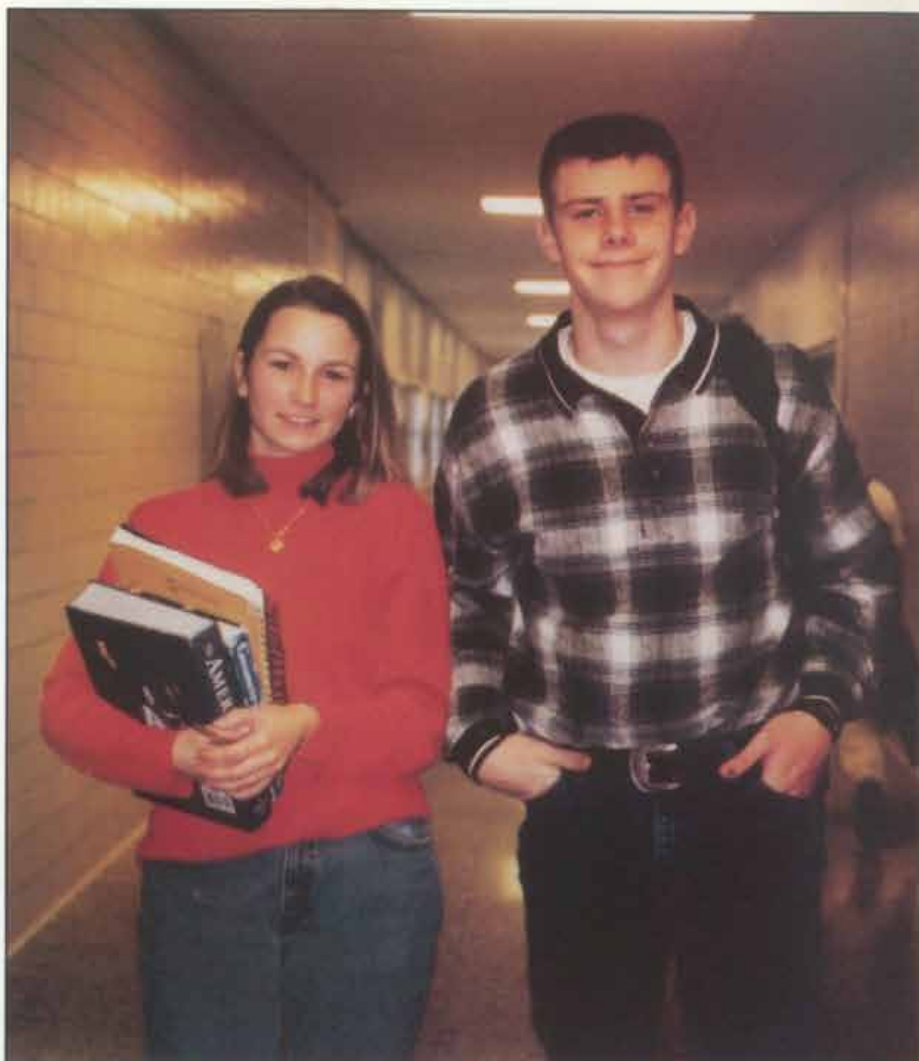

"Vegetate."

Ryan Myers-

"Watch T.V. and read."

Melissa Hall-

"Party."

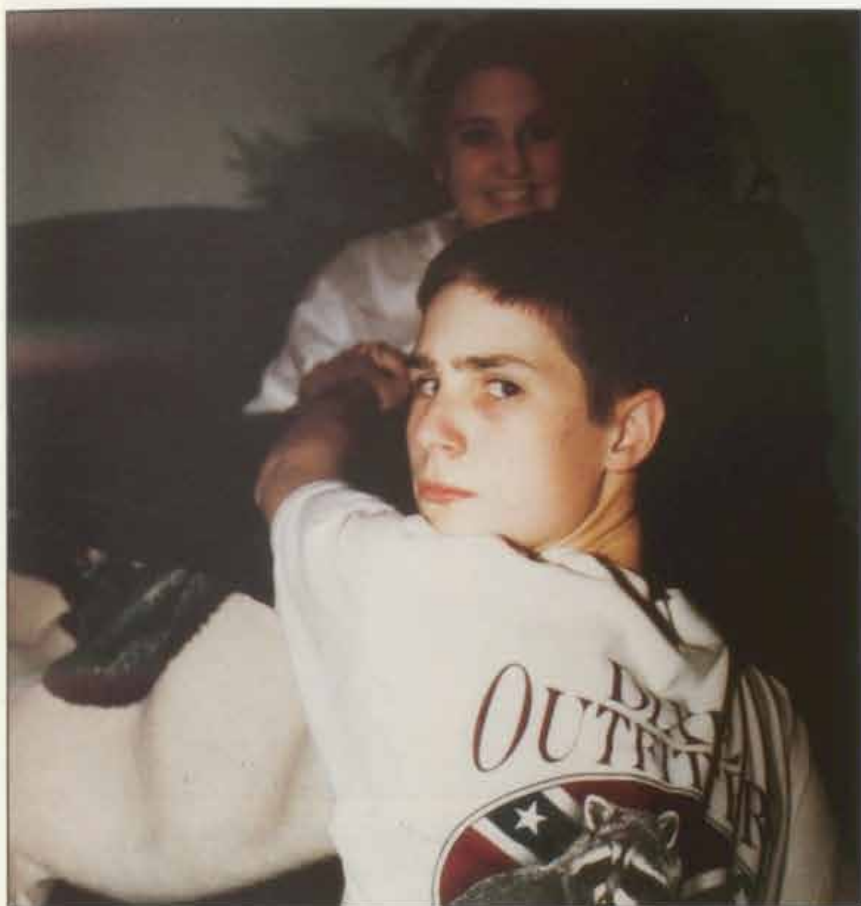

Amanda Martinez-

"I like to hang out and party with my friends."

Underclassmen Adrienne Harrell, Amanda Ralston, Latoya Gibson, Kristin Schafer, and Heather O'Banion came to all the basketball games throughout the season. These girls were the most loyal fans the Cubs had. They also rode the fan bus with the cheerleaders to all the away games and helped to cheer on their team at the games. Freshmen and sophomores were very good at showing school spirit during the games by doing the class yells and helping out the cheerleaders with some of their other cheers.

Junior couple Billy McClelland and Amanda Smith walk the halls every day. We may not like it, but school does take up most of our teenage lives. With the first bell ringing at 8:10 AM, and the last bell ringing at 3:10 PM, our lives are very much governed by school and the time we spend there.

Freshman Kyle Woodfill pulls on Sophomore Erin Gray's arm at a youth group meeting at his house. Church activities were a big part of many students' lives. Church related clubs included FCA, Co-Hi-Y, and individual church youth groups.

Senior Kristen Torrance and Junior Chad Liter share a slow dance during one of the newly popular all-school dance. Student Council sponsored several of these dances after the home basketball games. Seniors as well as underclassmen came to dance, hang out, and just have fun with their friends and classmates.

It's 3:10 on Friday afternoon. The last bell just rang signaling the end of the school week. What are you doing this weekend? Freshman Bethany Brinson states "I like to go skating."

There are many weekend opportunities for MCHS students. Most enjoy going out with our friends, boyfriends, and girlfriends. Junior Lucy Wickersham says, "My favorite part of the weekend is getting paid." We can also go out of town to eat, shop, and do many other exciting activities that aren't offered in Madison.

Who's having a party this weekend? Where's it at? Who's going? Parties are another big part of our weekends. Junior Felicia Lobb comments, "My favorite thing to do on the weekends is party and hang out with my friends." Whether it be just a few friends watching movies or a hundred kids hanging out by a bonfire in the middle of nowhere, a party is a high school must for tons of fun.

Another weekend must is "cruisin' the strip" which extends from the Madison 6 Theaters to the old TG&Y parking lot. MCHS students usually flock to one of two parking lots during their "laps". The TG&Y parking lot is the biggest hangout where all kinds of groups of people hang out. Another popular hangout is the old Sav-A-Lot parking lot. You can find a variety of different groups here also.

MCHS students like to:

- Hang out in the old TG&Y and Sav-a-Lot parking lots.
- Go to parties.
- Watch TV.
- Participate in or watch sports.
- Go shopping.
- Spend time with boyfriends/girlfriends.
- Got the the gym/spa.
- Work.
- Read.
- Got to concerts or on vacation.

What Will we be doing?

Where are we going?

Whether you're leaving home for a week's vacation or leaving home for good, you'll always be going somewhere with a specific destination in mind. Seniors are packing up for college or for vacation. Students of all ages are looking at colleges, certain jobs and doing job-shadowing in the career field they are interested in.

What are your plans for the future? Are you going to go to college after high school or get a job when you graduate? Junior Elizabeth Auxier plans "to go to college and major in journalism and then become a broadcasting anchor." Are you going to get married right after high school or wait until you get out of college? Are you not going to get married at all? Are you going to have children? How many?

Where are you going for spring break or summer vacation? Sophomore Kira Shadday comments, "My best vacation memory was going to Panama City with my church." What are you doing next weekend? Whether these questions are going to affect your short term plans or your long term plans, they are just some of the important questions you must ask yourself before taking off.

Many people don't plan on "going" anywhere. Even so, those people have chosen a direction. You don't have to leave the country, the state, or even leave home to do something with your life.

There are many important decisions we must make about the way we want to live our lives and where we want our lives to go. These choices we make must be made wisely, because, whether you want them to or not, these are the choices that shape our future.

Sophomore Jacklynn Geyman shops for a new outfit at Maurices. She shops with her mom and by herself because she can get more stuff with their money combined.

What are your plans for the future?

Lesley Cart-

"I plan to go to Butler or Purdue and become a pharmacist."

Joe Jenner-

"To go to college and go to law school."

Stephanie Rector-

"To go to college."

Bethany Brinson-

"To have fun, but not get into trouble."

KayCee Gatewood- "To go to college and get a job."

Junior Tony Turner works the cash register at his place of work, Burger King. Turner along with many MCHS students opted to work at fast food restaurants.

Jessica Hicks flashes a smile while she helps a hungry customer at Mr. Gatti's. The junior wished that her work schedule would allow her to participate in more school activities.

Other plans for the future...

Kaycee Jackson- "To go to college and own a skate shop with Melissa Enoch."

Josh Ferguson- "To go to Purdue and then start a farm of my own."

Ryan Cooper- "To go to law school."

Emily Waltz- "I will save the world. I'm serious."

How do you earn money?

Jessica Hicks- "I work at Mr. Gatti's."

Jesse Hayter- "I work at the Red Duck"

Stephanie Cutshall- "I save my lunch money."

Edgar Tam- "I have a job, but I'm not telling where."

Favorite Vacation Memories

Heather O'Banion- "When I went to Philly."

Micah Hofferth- "Coming home from vacation and seeing Amanda."

Aimee Hossler- "When my family crossed the border to Canada and the toll booth guy asked us if we had any concealed weapons."

Justin McKay- "Going to Disney World."

Where will we be going?

STEPPING INTO THE UNKNOWN

SENIORS

Mike Smith and Regan Gettelfinger clown around in between classes. Many people tried to have fun during their ten minutes of freedom.

Student Council President David Guarino has his head shaved. Guarino promised to shave his head if 200 people showed up to a dance.

Joey Ehlers thoroughly enjoys a sucker. Suckers were a big hit with many of the fund raisers around school.

Amanda Donnelly stares blankly down the hallway after a long and boring class. Amanda also spent her passing time with her friends.

NHS member B. J. Gray wraps presents for the State Hospital. Many members participated in this activity.

Seniors

Bug-eyed, Senior Ricky Spindler looks at the food on his tray in the cafeteria, ready to devour his meal.

Graduation is an emotional time, especially for seniors. The parties, the gifts, the celebration of freedom from high school, and the actual commencement ceremony are all very exciting. But what happens after graduation? Everyone knows that the senior year is the year when a student must decide what they are going to do after high school. Hopefully all seniors decided long before graduating. Whether going to college, technical school, getting a job, or just sitting at home doing nothing, everyone has a decision to make.

Spreading The Word In Mexico

Senior Abigail Glasgow recently left for a long mission trip to Mexico to spread the gospel of God to the people. Abigail has reached out to numerous people from many countries, like South Africa speaking God's word. She is also the Co-Vice President for Co-Hi-Y, which is a Christian related club for high school students. Glasgow graduated half a semester early in order to minister to the people in Mexico. With her father being a pastor, she has grown up all of her life in a godly environment. And her self-confidence and independence has helped her become a faithful leader. Being obedient to God's word is what has made Abigail a well respected young adult and got her where she is today. Senior Ricky Spindler agrees by saying, "Abigail is the best Christian I know." Numbers of students have agreed by saying Glasgow has a way with young and old people from all over the world.

Stars Of The Night

When I lay in bed at night,
I dream to see a glorious light,
One that shines so pure and bright,
Just like you, the stars of the night.

You were the one to make us
smile,
And help our day be more worthwhile.

We didn't think we would part,
But now it's time for a brand new start.

We never thought you'd say goodbye,
And now it's time for you to fly.

Fly so high, spread your wings,
Listen how the angel sings,
Heaven sweet up above,
Shining down on us with love.

Now just remember who she is,
Our Guardian Angel
Within us lives.

In Memory Of Kristina Thevenow

Laughing, Smiling, Talking, Crying
That was all her time was buying.

I remember the phone call saying she didn't make it
I remember the pain & I still can't take it.

They said it was already her time to leave
I would do all I could to get her life back
It's her beautiful smile that we all lack.

I miss her glowing and happy face
That no one can replace.

I feel so bad, you're probably wondering why
It's just the simple fact that I never said good-bye.

Her death has left us in such deep sorrow
But we have to realize, there's no promise for tomorrow.

Miss and Love You.

Audra Elaine Gray

He Only Takes The Best

God saw she was getting tired and a cure was not to be.
So he put his arms around her and whispered "Come with me."

With teary eyes we watched her suffer and fade away,
Although we loved her deeply
we could not make her stay.

A golden heart stopped beating,
gentle, loving hands put to rest,
God broke our hearts to prove to us
He only takes the best.

Seeking Your Destination

Student Life

Sarah Cooper, Sayra Hoskins, and Talisha Schottmiller cheer for the boys basketball team. Many students could be found at sporting events cheering for their favorite players.

Senior Kristin Ford prepares herself to be fed a cream pie by B.J. Gray. Madison students were very helpful when it came to feeding each other.

Senior Zach Miller and Junior p

Juniors Julie Lynch, KayCee Gatewood, Lucy Wickersham, and Jennifer George huddle together at a basketball game. Cubs games were a popular place to be during their season.

Up the Down Staircase

Play enjoys another successful run

Many hours of hard work and memorizing lines, finally paid off on the evening of Saturday, October 4th as the cast of Up The Down Staircase showed off their talent and put on a wonderful show.

The cast practiced a total of two hours a day, five days a week, for six weeks to prepare for the performance. Senior Josh Wooten stated, "Surprisingly enough, putting on a play is not as difficult as you might think, when you enjoy what you are doing."

In the opening scene, Ms. Silvia Barrett played by Senior Mirana Jack anticipates the first day of school. The first year teacher encounters many conflicts with students and staff as she considers transferring to another school because of her hardships.

One particularly disruptive student was Joe Ferone, played by Sophomore Lucas Mechem. He was especially hard on Ms. Barrett as he thought that she was fake and was not sincere in her claims.

Through Ms. Barrett, Joe Ferone realized that education is an important part of life and must be taken seriously.

In the end, Ms. Barrett also realizes that she does not want to transfer and decides to stay at Calvin Coolidge High School.

Director Mr. Bill Lindquist has been putting on the all school play for the past 14 years. He comments "Being in a school play helps students many ways later in life. It bolsters self-confidence, destroys shyness and contributes to a person's overall educational experience." Junior Leah Schroer said, "It was a great experience. I can't wait to do it next year."

"I can't wait to do it next year."
•Leah Schroer

Joe Ferone (Lucas Mechem) struggles to focus his attention on the teacher as classmates played by Chaun Reynolds and Daniel Reaves attempt to take a test.

Paul Barringer (Sean Lory) sits on a desk in Miss Barrett's class. Mr. Barringer was admired by many girls in the school and was a constant subject of conversation.

Sylvia Barrett (Mirana Jack) tries to console her student Alice Blake (Aimee Hossler) after Alice's embarrassing encounter with Paul Barringer. Hossler portrayed a lovestruck teenager with a crush on a teacher.

Some of the students in Mrs. Barrett's class discuss her actions and approaches to teaching. Each student had their own opinion of the teacher, but all seemed to appreciate her hard work and dedication to the class.

J.J. McHabe (Josh Wooten) spoke about the strict school regulations he enforced as principal. McHabe constantly ridiculed Mrs. Barrett's teaching methods and tried his best to eliminate any problems.

In the Spotlight

Senior Mirana Jack should be a name to remember. The aspiring actress has been performing in the all school play for two years and has been involved in other plays and musicals for five years. Jack became very excited when she earned the leading role. She spoke of the experience, "I was really scared at first, but I knew it would be a great experience."

Jack has been interested in acting ever since she was very young and really began to enjoy it when she participated in musicals. Her sister Elana who participated in drama in high school, along with Mr. Linqvist, has been one of her biggest inspirations to participate in acting. She stated, "Mr. Linqvist was really great and very understanding."

She is planning to major in theatre in college and says, "I hope to see my name in lights on Broadway..... anything as long as I am still involved in it (theatre) someway or another."

Jill Norris (Katy Knouf) giggles as the classmates discuss their homework. Jill and most of the students failed to complete their homework assignments at the start of the play.

A Week of Unknowns

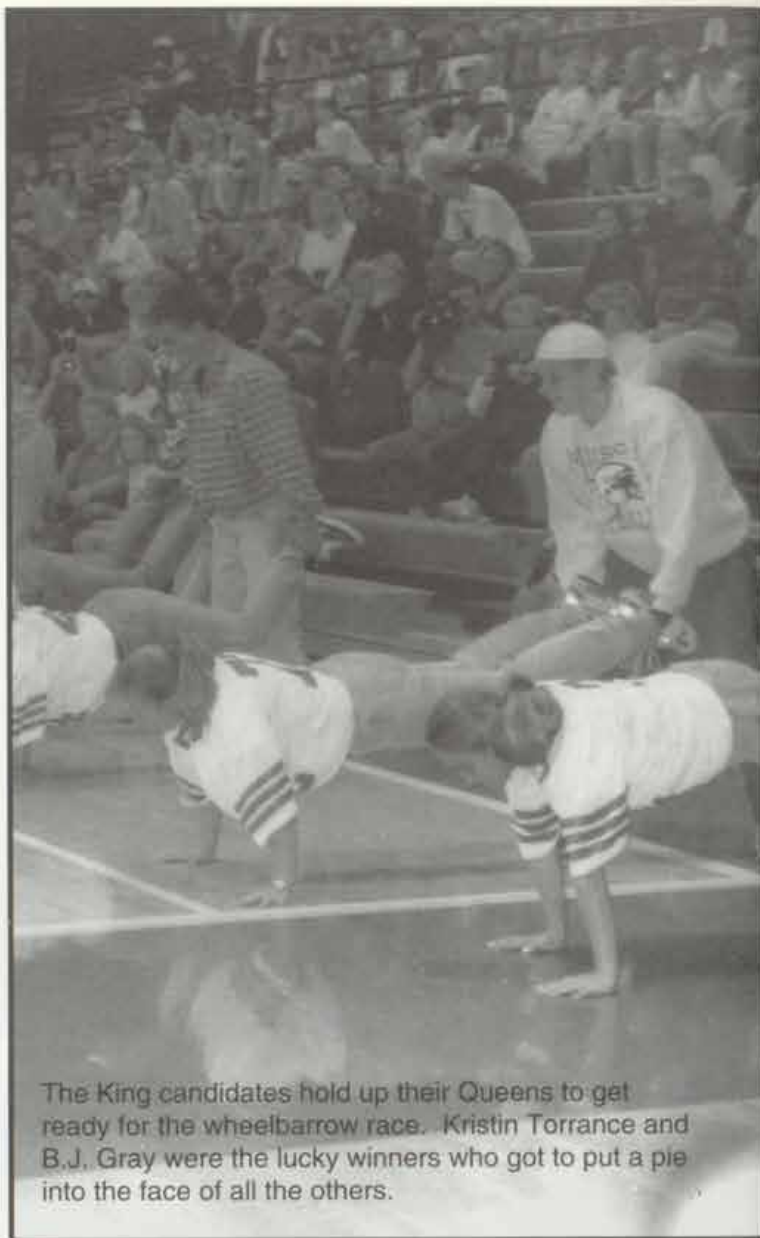

Imagine yourself walking down the hallway when all of a sudden you look up and see someone with the costume of the killer from the movie Scream. What do you do? Don't worry, it is only one of the many people who participated in Costume Day during Spirit Week of Homecoming.

Homecoming is a week with activities for everyone to participate in. Homecoming activities included Spirit Week, hall decorating, the Pep Rally and parade and the crowning of the King and Queen. "I enjoy Homecoming because everyone seems to have more spirit that week," says Junior Allison Foley.

Spirit Week started off Homecoming with Hippy Day on Monday, followed by Flannel Shirt Day, Hat Day, Costume Day and Red & White Day. Hall decorating was on Tuesday night with some confusion because there are no longer class hallways. The halls were decorated anyway with streamers, balloons, and signs supporting the football Cubs.

The parade and Pep Rally were held on Wednesday night. Again this year, all fall sports were invited to participate in the parade. Skits, ranging from mashed potato sculpting to wheelbarrow races, were held again. The captains of each team competed in the skits and the loser got a pie in the face.

Homecoming ended at halftime when the King and Queen were crowned at Friday night's football game. Andy Lytle and Jami Peelman were the lucky couple. "It was a very exciting and honorable experience and I would like to thank everyone who supported me," exclaimed Senior Queen Jami Peelman. Other candidates were Kyle Harsin, Zach Miller, B.J. Gray, Justin Geisler, Ryan Myers, Molly Holt, Kristin Torrence, Kristen Ford, Haley Yount, and Lisa Peters.

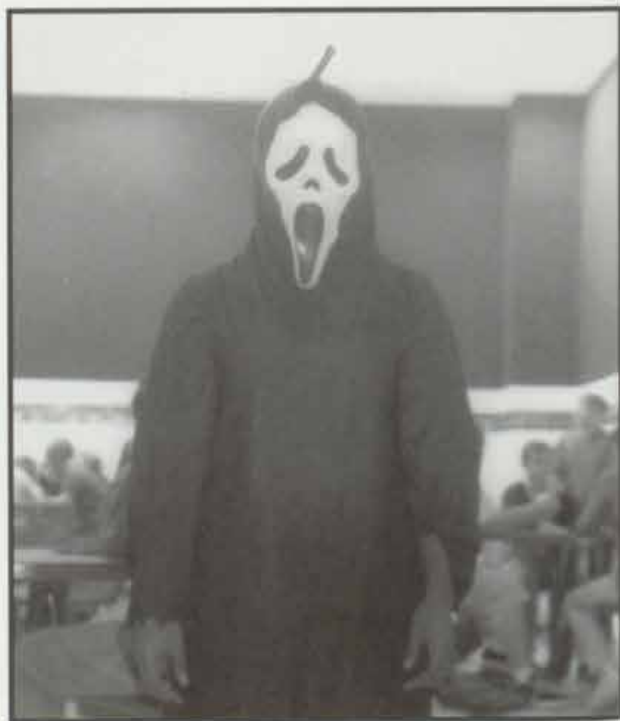

The King candidates hold up their Queens to get ready for the wheelbarrow race. Kristin Torrence and B.J. Gray were the lucky winners who got to put a pie into the face of all the others.

Senior soccer player Kim Stoner buries her face in a bowl of jello. The object was to find the hidden treasure the fastest.

Sophomore Latoya Gibson participates in Costume Day. Many turned the other way when they saw her walking down the hall.

How low can you go? Senior cheerleader Gaelli Welch found out by participating in the limbo at the Pep Rally.

Senior soccer player Justin Geisler shoves a pie into the face of senior teammate B.J. Gray. The two seniors were co-captains of the soccer team.

Focus

Due to a misunderstanding there almost wasn't a Homecoming King this year. When the time came to nominate six Seniors for King and Queen, everyone was told only to nominate six for Queen. The Student Council was asked why there wasn't one. Student Council President David Gaurino said that because of miscommunication between himself and Mr. Jeff Dhonau was the cause of the almost nonexistent Homecoming King.

The miscommunication was resolved and six Seniors were nominated for Homecoming King. Andy Lytle had the privileged of being the second Homecoming king in school history. "It was a great honor and I would like to thank everyone who supported me," said Senior King Andy Lytle.

Homecoming King and Queen, Andy Lytle and Jami Peelman, stop for the camera. They were both honored with the titles.

The Wizard of Oz

The 1998 all-school musical was The Wizard of Oz. There was a large cast with many talented high school students. Senior Mirana Jack caught the lead role of Dorothy Gale. Other senior cast members were James Thur as the Cowardly Lion, Hiedi Morris as the Wicked Witch, Erin Sooy as Glenda the Good Witch, and many others. Mirana Jack said, "I loved playing the role of Dorothy and it was a real learning experience." Jack also stated, "The cast was really supportive."

The Wizard of Oz is a story that people of all ages can enjoy. The show was held three times, and was a success. A lot of younger children from the elementary schools came to see the great show. Erin Sooy mentioned, "I loved the attention from the little kids. They still call me a princess."

The story starts with Dorothy protecting her dog, ToTo. Almira Gultch is a wicked old witch who wants ToTo gone. When Dorothy leaves, she meets Professor Marvel. Professor Marvel shows Dorothy, through his crystal ball, that she should go home. Dorothy hits her head, and enters the land of Oz. There she meets Glenda the Good Witch, the Munchkins, Scarecrow, Cowardly Lion, Tinman, and the Wicked Witch.

Heidi Morris stated, "I loved playing my role of the Wicked Witch, because anyone can play a nice character. It's easy to attract the audience. You really have to work hard to try to scare people!"

Erin Sooy, Mirana Jack, and Heidi Morris would also like to thank Mrs. Lynn Maricle and Kim Hoagland for all their help and support.

The cast of the 1998 musical The Wizard of Oz gathers for a picture. The show was held three times this year and was very popular among the children and adults of Madison.

Senior James Thur growls for the camera as he portrays the Cowardly Lion.

“Memories that Last a Lifetime”

The excitement of prom overwhelmed many MCHS students this year. Many decisions had to be made including, what kind of dress to get, where to eat, what time to get pictures taken, what kind of flowers to get, and most important where will it be held. The committee members started planning for the prom in the beginning of January. One major decision was to decide where to have it. Should they repeat the success of last year's prom by having it in the school cafeteria, or try to bring back a long time tradition, going to Hanover College? After a couple of meetings it was decided to have it in the cafeteria. Senior Lisa Peters commented, "I'm glad we had it again in the cafeteria. We (97' Prom Committee) did an awesome job last year, I hope they do a good job this year." Most of the seniors were satisfied with the committee's decision.

The colors of navy blue, white, and silver were displayed with many balloons and streamers. One major change to this year's prom was the handing out of mugs along with the traditional wine glasses. The mugs were only given to the guys that attended.

Prince Candidates included, Bryan Bullington, Nick Griffith, Chad Liter, Collin Schafer, Brent Morgan, and Bubba Yarbrough. With princess candidates being Jessica Gray, Kristin Griffith, Megan Little, Krista O'Neal, Laura Sparks, and Emily Waltz. Morgan and Gray were crowned. Queen contestants were Sarah Blaney, Pam Brown, Kristen Ford, Molly Holt, Whitney Wolf, Erin Sooy while king candidates were Kyle Colen, Lee Enoch, B.J. Gray, Kyle Harsin, Ryan Schafer, and Justin Stiver. Getting the title were Colen and Ford.

“Memories that Last a Lifetime” taken from the Academy Award winning movie “Titanic” was this year's theme. After the crowd filed in and the dancing began, the night would be full of Memories That Last a Lifetime.

Junior Lesley Cart and Josh Marshall enjoy a slow dance together. For many juniors it was their first time at prom.

Seniors Ricky Spinler gets down to the song, Stayin' Alive. This marked the second year that Trevis Bird served as DJ.

Senior Lisa Peters and Junior Chad Ford dance to a slow song together. Both enjoyed the evening, along with about 500 other people who attended prom.

With an enthusiastic, cheering crowd behind them, Kristen Ford and Kyle Colen were crowned Queen and King.

After being crowned princess, Jessica Gray busts a move with Senior Andy Lytle.

Brent Morgan and Jessica Gray were all smiles after the prince and princess crowning. Both were very honored by the recognition.

Honors Day: Days To Remember

The class of '98 was truly an outstanding class. The annual Honors Day program was held on two separate occasions to recognize all of the achievements they accomplished. The first program was the Senior Recognition Day, which honored various academic achievements within the school, such as department honors, club and activities scholarships and awards. Monetary scholarships were awarded the second date. The length of these achievements definitely merited the two days.

On the second date, the Honors Day program featured Senior superlatives and awarded scholarships, memorials and local organization money. Other events included the passing of the gavel to Amber Dionne from David Guarino and the class key to Krista O'Neal from class president Regan Gettelfinger. The major scholarship winners were David Guarino and Jessie Henry.

Senior Kim Stoner receives her check for perfect attendance from Mr. Donough. Stoner along with four other seniors were awarded this check of $100 for not missing a day of school.

Josh Kramer receives the Ruth M. Lytle Memorial Scholarship. The scholarship was presented to him by classmates Andy Lytle and Tatum Lytle, grandchildren of Mrs. Lytle.

Mike Casper receives the Chan Chilton Memorial from Athletic. Casper also won the superlative for Most Athletic.

Director Jim Lee. Casper

David Guarino receives the Rotary Lift Division Achievement Award. Guarino also received the Louis Ernst Memorial Scholarship.

Senior choir members Mirana Jack and Erin Sooy performed the song "Letting Go".

Senior band member Hannah Willage plays her flute during the musical portion of the Senior Honor Day. Willage also won the superlative for Most Appealing Smile.

Graduation: A new chapter for the class of '98

It was a wet and rainy day. The class of 1998 were in Conner K. Salm Gymnasium closing a chapter from their life at MCHS and starting a whole new chapter of their life afterwards. Like the stormy weather outside with tornado watches outside the Senior class of 1998 were a tornado of emotions inside. The May 31st service was a celebration of the life that was and what was to become.

The ceremony began with the Pledge of Allegiance led by Brandi Cahall, and followed by the Invocation led by Aaron Pietrykowski. Student Council President David Guarino welcomed all family members, faculty, and friends. Many memories were brought once again to everyone's attention by Andy Lytle, Brandon Mathis, and Lisa Peters. Principal Kenneth Hoffman introduced the keynote speaker, Mayor Al Huntington. The Mayor provided the Commencement Address. The eleven valedictorians are Melissa Buchanan, Kristen Ford, Justin Geisler, Jayme Hart, Dorothy Hoffman, John Hunter, David Knouf, Tatum Lytle, Aaron Pietrykowski, Amanda Runyon, and Ryan Schafer, each gave a piece of the address. The salutatorian address was given by B.J. Gray. Regan Gettelfinger and Haley Yount gave the farewell speech and B.J. Gray ended the graduation with the benediction.

The senior class of 1998 left MCHS in a unique way. Each person had someone else turn their tassel over in a wave fashion until the entire class had turned over the tassel to a new beginning. A few red and white caps were thrown into the air, and the class began a new chapter. With the final good-byes, congratulations, memories and remembrance the class of 1998 said farewell to MCHS.

Class President Regan Gettelfinger and Vice President Haley Yount watch over the class with smiles as the class turns over their tassels.

Brandon Mathis, Lisa Peters, and Andy Lytle reminisce on the history the class has shared together.

Whitney Wolf rolls a sheet of paper up with a list of all the teachers names on it. The Senior class listened intently to the special speaker, Mayor Al Huntington.

Principal Mr. Hoffman hands out the diplomas. This one he handed to Melissa Buchanan.

The senior class of 1998 arise and throw their hats as the end of their high school careers. Many emotions flourished after the ceremony.

Jonathan Landury turns over Brad Muniers tassel from left to right. Each classmate took turns turning the tassels down the row, starting a new tradition.

Jayme Hart one of the eleven valadictorians, played the flute at commencement.

Mr. and Mrs. Cub

Nicole Cook and Lee Enoch

Kim Stoner and Ryan Feider

Sara Blaney and Wilbur Dattilo

Pam Brown and Bjorn Sundman

Regan Gettlefinger and Brad Smith

Tatum Lytle and Dustin Bentz

On January 24, Dustin Bentz and Tatum Lytle were crowned Mr. and Miss Cub for the 1998 basketball homecoming. There were six candidates for both guys and girls who were nominated and voted on by the students. The candidates for Mr. Cub were Dustin Bentz, Wilbur Dattilo, Lee Enoch, Ryan Feider, Brad Smith and Bjorn Sundman. The candidates for Miss Cub were Sara Blaney, Pam Brown, Nicole Cook, Regan Gettlefinger, Tatum Lytle, and Kim Stoner. The Homecoming ceremonies took place between the J.V. and Varsity games against Floyd Central.

Following the Varsity game a dance was held in the small gym. The dance, sponsored by the student council, was a success. In the week before the dance, Student Counsel President David Gaurino announced that if at least two hundred students attended the dance he would shave his hair off. Many students were pleased with the incorporation of dances after the games such as senior Gaeli Welch who commented, "I'm really glad we had dances this year. It's about time Madison started showing school spirit." Gaurino's challenge was met with over two hundred students attending the dance. Dustin Bentz and Tatum Lytle both took turns shaving Gaurino's head.

Xavier Craft passes on the royalty of Mr. Cub to Dustin Bentz with a little lift from 1997 graduate Pete Schuring.

Cadet teaching & Job Shadowing

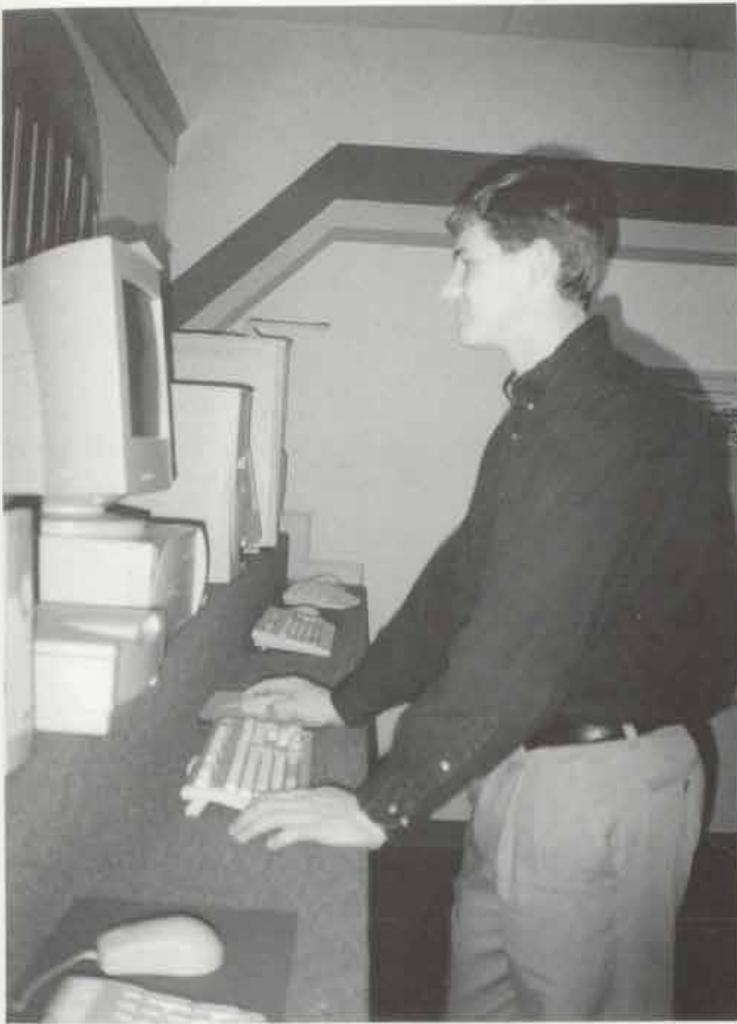

"I signed up for both of the programs so I could gain valuable and knowledgeable experience for the future," commented Senior Dustin Bentz about Cadet Teaching and Job Shadowing. Bentz also stated, "I hope to be involved in teaching or politics one day."

Job Shadowing and Cadet Teaching are for seniors only and both last for a nine week term. Senior Brad Smith comments, "I signed up for Job Shadowing because of the knowledge and the technique of things I've never known about. Also the capability of being able to go out for lunch was good." The purpose of Job Shadowing is to give a student a first hand experience at a job that a student is interested in. Smith also stated, "All and all, it has been a good experience for me."

In Cadet Teaching students get to pick the teacher that they would prefer cadet teaching for. To be accepted for this course students must have a "B" average and provide their own transportation to and from the school.

Juniors are not exempt from participating programs like these. Peer Counseling is a course for juniors and seniors both. Students taking this course are assigned to a elementary school helping out at-risk students by tutoring, and being a positive role model. Kelly Hannah and Angela Lee commented, "It makes us feel good when we teach the kids something and they say 'Oh, I get it.'" Angela also stated, "It helped me realize that I really don't want to be a teacher."

"I think its good for the students to get out and get a feel of how that job actually works. By doing this students can decide if that may be a job that they would want to do for a career," stated Mrs. Sebree about the programs.

Andy Lytle tries to sell a product to one of his customers over the phone. Andy job shadowed himself at Microdome Computers, his own business.

David Guarino takes time to play a game with a few of the kids in Mrs. Matthews class at E. O. Muncie. David has been a cadet teacher for the past two years.

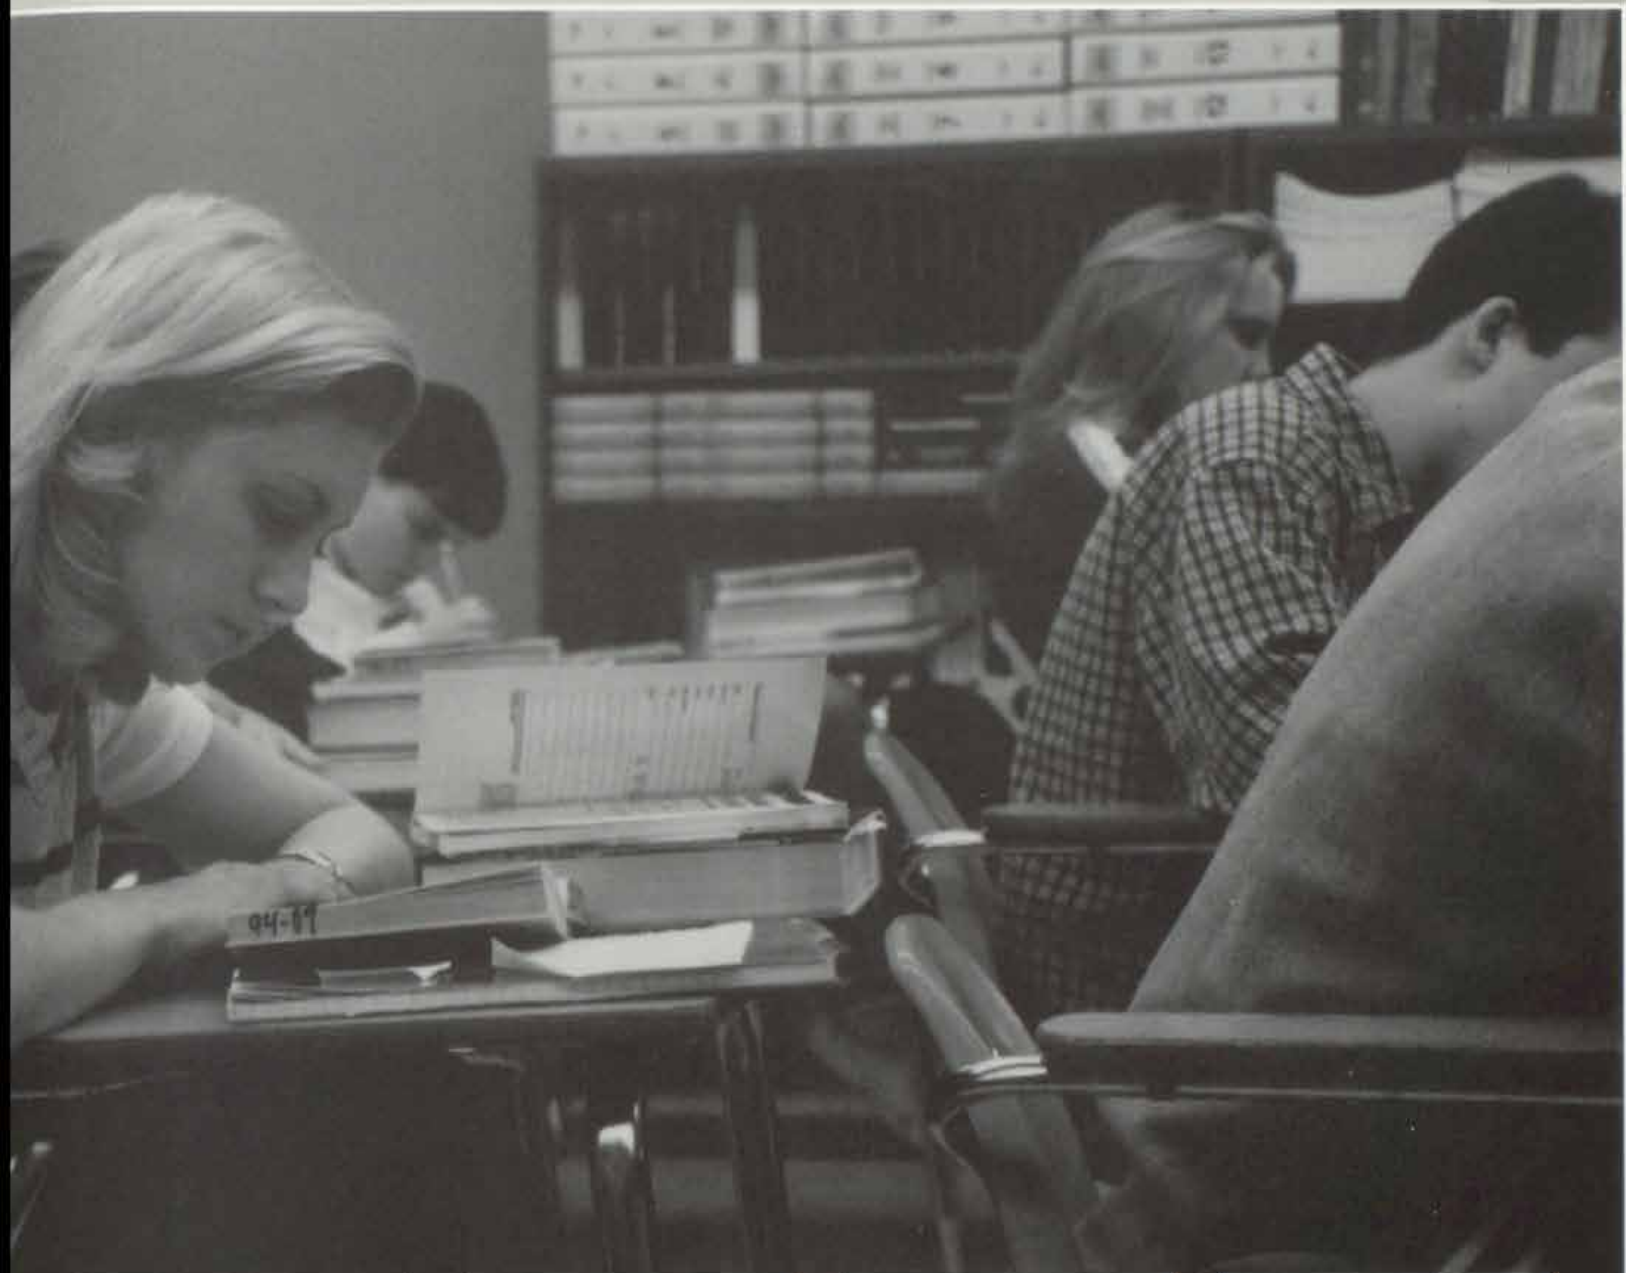

Angela Lee teaches a couple of students at E. O. Muncie how to do fractions. Angela taught in Mrs. Tuttle's class.

Defining the Unknown

Academics

Jami Peelman takes advantage of her class free time to catch up on her reading assignment. Most students took this time to catch up with friends.

Annorah Adkins expresses her disapproval of a comment made by David Rosser at a Co-Hi-Y meeting.

Brandy Stockdale is caught rushing office request slips to students. Many seniors opted to become office aides during the day.

Melissa Enoch smiles to friends on her way to class. Most students took the ten minute passing period to chat with friends.

Ryan Fales blocks out his screen for Graphic Arts. All of the students in Graphic Arts had the chance to design and print their own shirts.

Super Bowl Sends Two Teams to State Finals

This years Super Bowl Team had a great year with two teams going to the state competition. The Math team coached by Jerry Dougan and the Fine Arts team coached by Lorna Naylor both went to state and finished very well. The Math team became the State Champions and the Fine Arts team the Runner-ups.

The Super Bowl season started on March 12 at the BNL Invitational. They then traveled to the Jennings County Invitational where they captured the Hoosier Hills Academic Super Bowl crown for the fourth straight year. At the area competition in Austin, Madison had five first place finishes among Class 2 schools and overall first place among the twenty-one schools competing in four classes. The five teams who placed first were the English, Science, Fine Arts, Mathematics and Interdisciplinary teams. This is where the Math and Fine Arts teams were able the advance to the State Finals.

The highlight of the Super Bowl season came May 2 at the State Finals at Pike High School in Indianapolis. The Math team consisting of Brent Wooden, Ryan Schafer, Kevin Crabtree, David Knouf, Derek Luebke and Bjorn Sundman achieved the title of Class 2 State Champions with the coaching of teacher Jerry Dougan. The Fine Arts team made up of Micah Hoggatt, Kevin Crabtree, Eric Jones, Katy Knouf, Anne Mass and Melissa Buchanan were the Class 2 State Runner-ups coached by teacher Lorna Naylor.

Spell Bowl Season Ends With a 4th Place State Finish

The Spell Bowl team had a good season. They finished with a fourth place finish at the Spell Bowl State Finals. The area competition was held at Madison this year on October 20. The Madison team placed first in the Class 2 division spelling 74 out of 90 words correct. They were also the overall winners at their site.

They then qualified third in the state and advanced to the State Finals at Warren Central High School in Indianapolis on November 15. That is where they placed fourth in the Championship Round.

Madison Places 3rd in Knowledge Master

This year Madison competed in the fall Knowledge Open. The competition is done by computer and was held in the IMC. It started at 7:15 am on the morning of December 3. The team answered a total of 190 questions correct with only 30 second chance answers. Their final point total score was 1443.

This score placed them third in the state behind North Vigo and Penn High School which are both much larger schools. In our enrollment division of 1001 plus students Madison placed 147 in the nation out of the 528 schools involved. Overall Madison placed 187 out of the 1200 schools of all sizes in the nation participating in the competition.

The annual Academic Awards Banquet was held this year at Hanover College on May 19. Many awards were given out including recognition of the two Super Bowl teams that went to state. Dr. Richard Althoff also received a small desktop marble clock for his dedication and leadership to the Madison Schools Academic Competition Programs.

The awards given to students included pins given to the five Hi-Q team members, Captain Micah Hofferth, Laura Edwards, Levi King, Ryan Schafer and Elizabeth Auxier. The Rookie-of-the-Year was given to Katie Strandmark. Katy Knouf was given the Best Researcher. Best Supporting Player was received by Micah Hoggatt and Kevin Crabtree. Melissa Buchanan, Jayme Hart and Ryan Schafer received the Academic Competition Contribution Award. The Mental Attitude Award was given to Brent Wooden. The 2nd Annual Roger Gallatin "Academic Spirit" Award was given to Derek Luebke. David Knouf was the recipient of the Most Valuable Player Award.

David Knouf was the recipient of the Most Valuable Player Award at the annual Academic Awards Banquet. Knouf also was a 1998 Indiana Academic All-Star.

Valedictorians: Making the Grade

Every year MCHS honors their valedictorians at Honors Day and Graduation. This year 11 people were recognized for having a 4.0 grade point average. The title goes to Melissa Buchanan, David Knouf, Jayme Hart, Ryan Schafer, Kristen Ford, Tatum Lytle, John Hunter, Aaron Pietrykowski, Justin Geisler, Amanda Runyon, and Dorothy Hoffmann. BJ Gray was Salutatorian.

Not only are these people bright students, but they were also active in extracurricular activities as well which contributed to their impressive resumes. Lytle, Geisler, Schafer, Pietrykowski, Ford, Hunter, Gray, and Runyon were each involved in at least one varsity school sport and Buchanan, Hart, and Knouf were in Band. Aaron Pietrykowski was an officer for both NHS and Student Council. Many of these students, such as Dorothy Hoffmann, were involved in activities outside of school as well. Hoffmann was an active member in Girl Scouts.

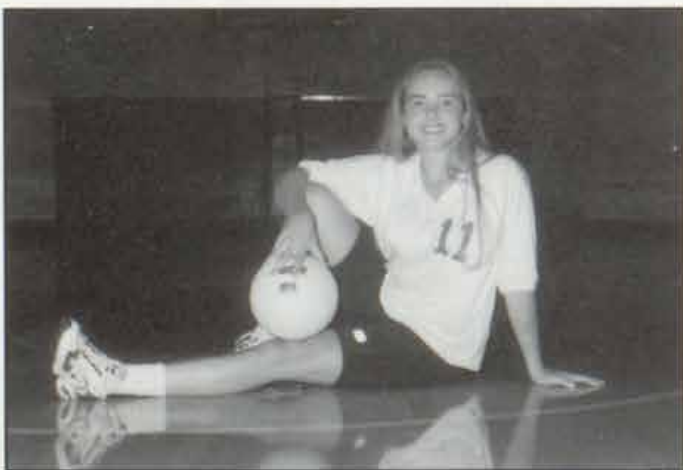

Although these students had perfect grade point averages, that doesn't mean they took easy classes to get it. All of them were in at least one AP or honors class but most were in every honors class available and in all three AP classes offered. Despite all these time consuming activities, these people were able to make the grade. Hart commented that, "it was easy," but she added, "Well, I had to try hard in AP Calculist, though."

Melissa Buchanan and David Knouf received an impressive 1530 on the SAT, the highest of their class. Buchanan was accepted to and will be attending Yale University in Connecticut to be an architect. Knouf will be attending Swarthmore in Philadelphia and wants to design airplanes.

The valedictorians of the class of '98 have interesting plans for the future. Jayme Heart sees herself living on a prairie and writing literature. Kristen Ford commented while smiling that in five years she will be "anywhere but home." Ryan Schafer will be just finishing up college at Rose Hulman and wants to live in Louisville to pursue a chemical engineering field. John Hunter doesn't see himself continuing a career at McDonald's although he did work there for most of his junior year and part of his senior year.

Ben Hunter sits with his two best friends in the hamburger buisness at the McDonald's in Wal-Mart.

Kristen Ford poses for her volleyball picture. During high school, Kristen played basketball, volleyball and tennis but was still able to maintain a 4.0. She will attend Vanderbilt University.

Amanda Runyon works tediously in her journalism class. Although journalism took a lot of outside of class work, Amanda was able to juggle it with varsity softball and other activities.

Custer Contest

15 Minutes of Fame

The Custer Contest is a competition of reciting an acceptable piece of literature using no aids such as costume or lighting. The opportunity is given to the top five students of the senior class. Candidates are chosen first by grade point average and then by the top SAT Verbal scores if there is a tie in GPA. The prize money comes from the interest off a large sum of money Mr. Custer put into the bank 87 years ago for this purpose only. The candidates this year were Melissa Buchanan, David Knouf, Jayme Hart, Tatum Lytle, and Ryan Schafer.

Melissa Buchanan received the first place award of $100. She performed her interpretation of The Waltz, a playful story written about the inner thoughts of a woman while extending a social courtesy to a man she'd rather not be dancing with. Buchanan won the prize by her smooth tone and witty gestures that captured the character's cynical mood.

Second place and $75 went to David Knouf who performed The Secret Life of Walter Mitty. Knouf was good at imitating Mitty's wife in a high, nagging voice but the best feature of his talent was keeping his concentration. Even when someone in the audience dropped a glass bottle and it clanged all the way down the aisle, he never missed a word.

The equal rank prize of $50 each went to the remaining three candidates Jayme Hart, Ryan Schafer and Tatum Lytle. Hart performed a more serious piece from "Song of Hiawatha" called Son of the Evening Star. Her facial expressions went well with the story and her calm but strong stage presence complemented it. Schafer's rendition of Harrison Bergeron was entertaining as well as comical. His voice changes to represent the masculine and feminine characters were well timed and distinctive. Lytle captured the tone of a woman's strong sentiments towards the suppression of women in literature in her story, The Angel in the House.

"I know this piece so well but I'm afraid I'll forget it when I get up there," Lytle commented just before the contest began. Although she may have been nervous, she appeared confident on stage.

Walter Mitty, portrayed by David Knouf, is off on one of his wild daydreams. Knouf received second place

Ryan Schafer does his impression of a beautiful ballerina who was forced to wear a mask to hide her beautiful face.

Tatum Lytle strolls across the stage with authority during her performance

First place Melissa Buchanan sarcastically explains why her character would rather not be waltzing.

"Hats Off"

New Director Helps with Winning Year

Our hats should come off to the band students along with the new band director, Mr. Spencer-Pierce. Spencer-Pierce obtained his degrees from Indiana University School of Music and Ball State University. He began his teaching career in 1976. He has been Head Director at Paoli High School in Indiana and at Chowchilla High School in California. He has also been Assistant Director at Ball State University.

Band members are busy all year round with practices, concerts, parades, home basketball and football games and competitions. It all starts the week before school begins with band camp. Everyday these students are sweating it out while they perfect their drill sets for marching. For a whole week band members marched around the student parking lot preparing for the fall marching season.

Then the season continues in the fall with the football games and competitions and the home basketball games in the winter. Junior Shellie Fowler said, "The performances are the best part of the games. It is fun to watch the bands from the other schools perform."

In the spring the season continues with the concert band. Senior Margie Kinyon commented, "Band is a lot of hard work, but it is well worth it."

Band members can also be found in community events. The MCHS band marches in the Christmas parade and Regatta parade down Main Street.

Band

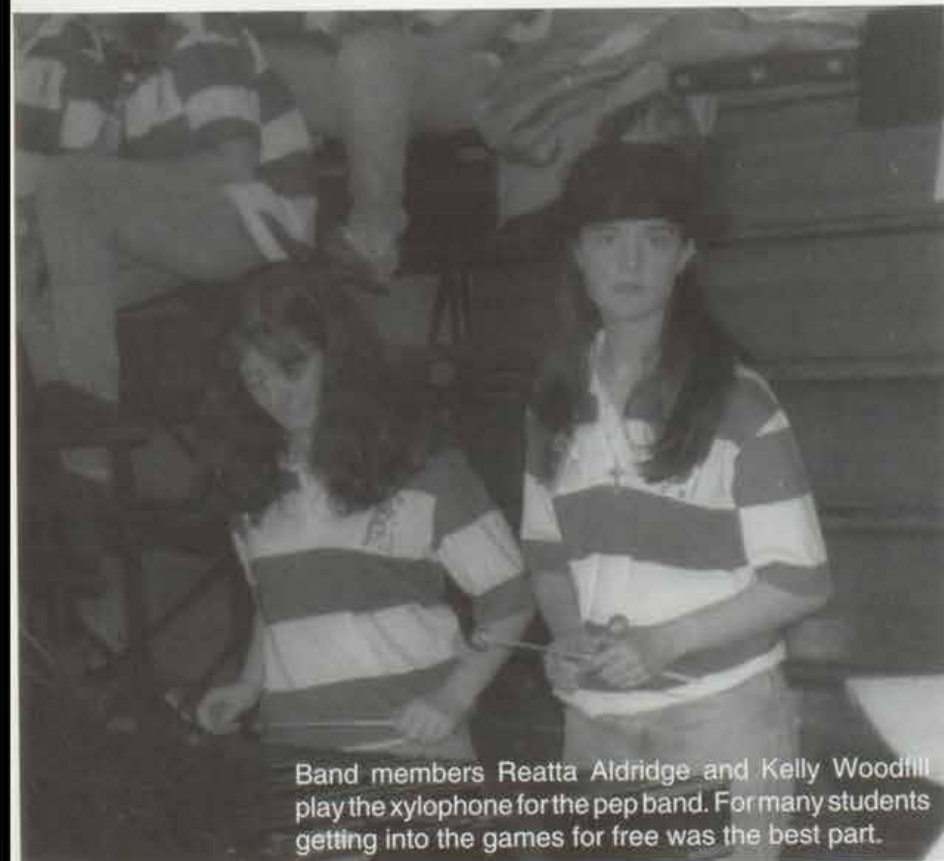

Sophomore Laura Black plays her clarinet at one of the home boys' varsity basketball games. This marks the second year that Black has been active in high school band.

Junior Lesley Cart fights against the cold December air as she prepares to lead the marching band for the annual Christmas parade. This year Cart was a drum major.

Senior Brian Jones keeps the beat as the pep band keeps school spirit. At times there were more than 70 students active in band.

Band members Reatta Aldridge and Kelly Woodfill play the xylophone for the pep band. For many students getting into the games for free was the best part.

FOCUS ON DRUM MAJORS

A drum major is by no means an easy task. Senior Melissa Buchanan and junior Lesley Cart learned this first hand.

Both students attended a very intensive Field Commander Camp. At this camp they were drilled in marching, directing and leadership skills. A drum major must be an enthusiastic member with responsibility and good leadership skills.

Being a drum major also has many pressures. Cart stated, "...I felt like I had all eyes on me."

Cart plans to be active in band while in college but does not plan to pursue a career in music or band. Buchanan will study architecture and will not participate in a college music program. She stated, "I will always be a 'Marching Band Fan'."

Show Choir/Madrigal

Great Expectations

The Madison Show Choir had a good year. Although they did not compete in any competitions, they had a very busy year. The performance season didn't get really full until the second semester, but Show Choir was hard at work all year long.

They performed in many different shows. Broadway Nights, an annual event, was a big show for them. They also performed for Madison's fourth, fifth, and sixth graders and in other various shows for the community. Mrs. Lyn Maricle stated, "I will really miss all the seniors. They have been wonderful to have performing for so long."

Senior members of the Show Choir are Erin Sooy, Heidi Morris, James Thur, and Connie Willick. Though the seniors are leaving, there are many underclassmen to take their places. The Madison Show Choir has some great expectations for next year.

Madrigals didn't have quite as busy a schedule this year as they have in the past, but they kept trucking right through the end. They performed in three different events this year, including Broadway Nights. Maricle stated about this group, "There are a lot of very talented people that participated this year." She stated that outstanding people from Madrigals include Seniors James Thur and Theresa Shepard, Junior Tanner Owings, Sophomores Molly Datillo and Kelly Hoagland.

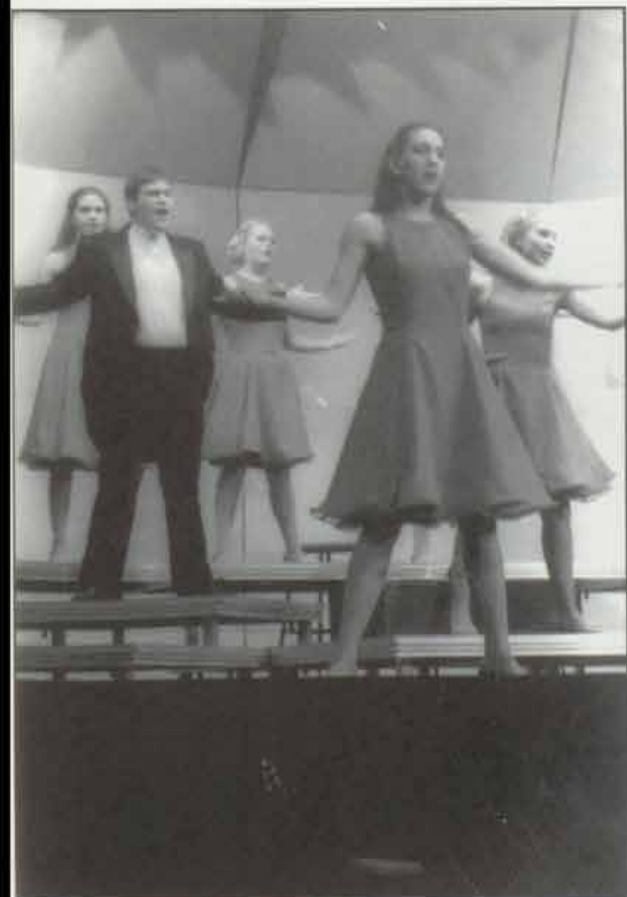

During their performance at the Custer Contest, the Show Choir gets into a formation between songs. The Show Choir performed at many other community functions.

Senior Mirana Jack and Freshmen Michael Sparks and Emily Hoagland dance to the music. All three were active in the Choir this year.

Juniors Sarah Brandenburg and Kristi Nichols relax after a Madrigal performance.

Senior Heidi Morris performs a move at one of the Show Choir's performances. Heidi was active in any different musical activities.

Junior Leslie Cart gets into the music while dancing. Leslie was a great addition to the Show Choir this year.

Yearbook

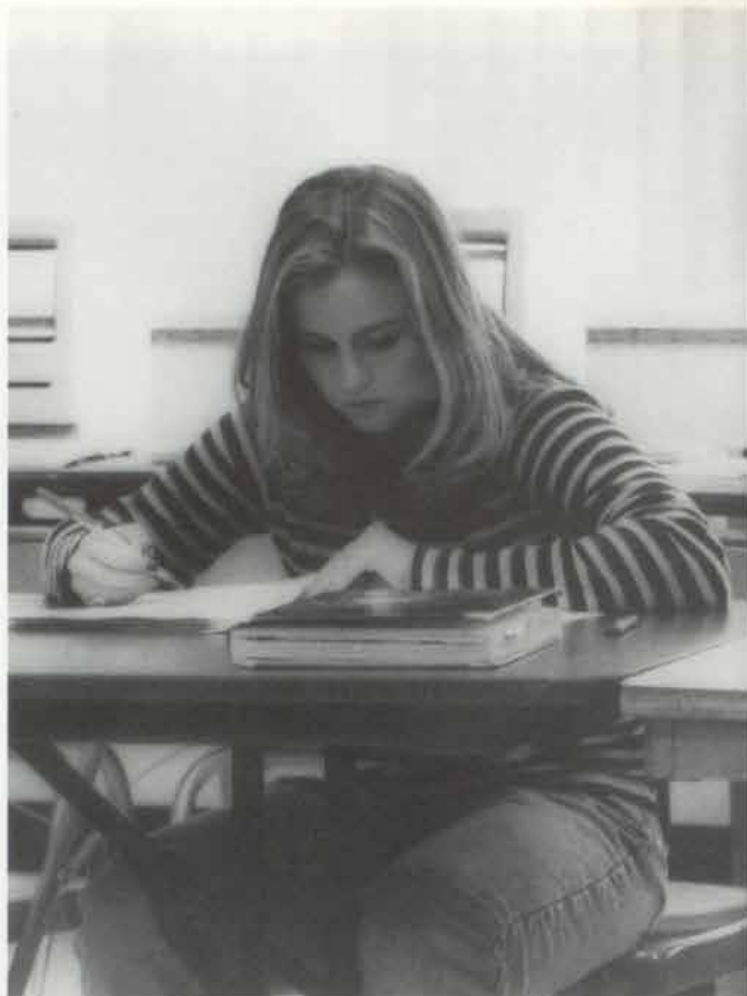

In Mrs. Kande Becker's second year at the helm of the yearbook staff, she hoped to make this year's book one of the best in a long time. It is only her second year, so she is learning as she goes. All staff members think she is doing a noble job.

Junior staff member Emily Waltz stated, "The most interesting thing that I have learned is how to develop and print pictures."

A lot of time was spent learning to use the computers and the different programs used to develop the book. Students also learned to develop film and make prints in the dark room.

The staff had to raise over $20,000 to produce the yearbook. The money was raised through advertisement sales and yearbook sales. Everyone on the staff did everything that was necessary to make this year's book a success.

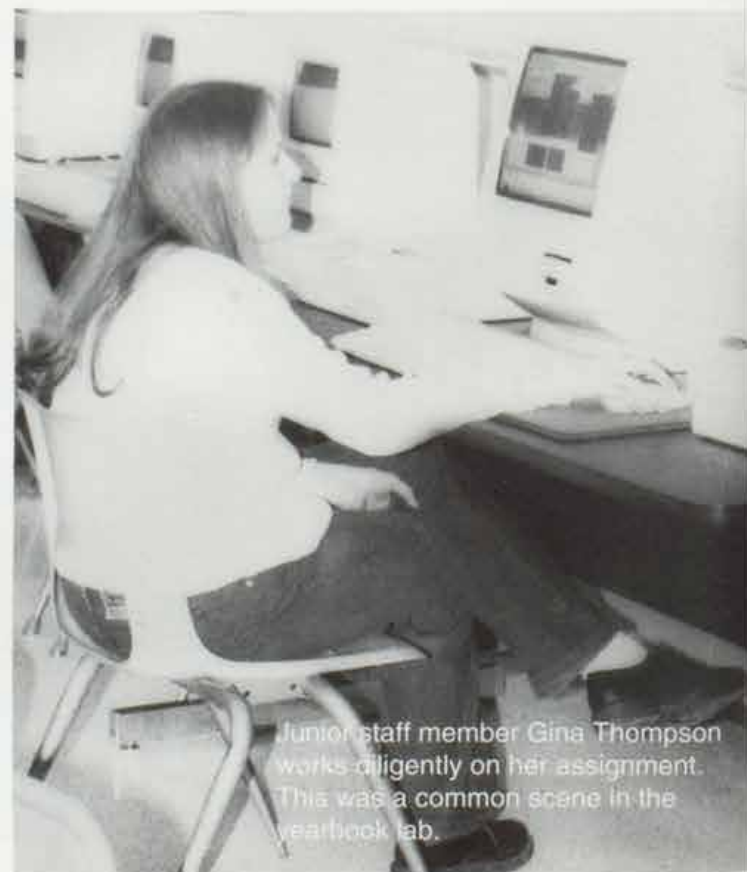

Staff member Kristin Griffith said, "This year was very exciting and I am looking forward to next year." This thought was shared by all returning members of the staff.

Junior yearbook staff member Kristin Griffith goes over some of the latest paper work. Yearbook students gave up a lot of their time to make the book a success.

Junior staff member Gina Thompson works diligently on her assignment. This was a common scene in the yearbook lab.

Junior Journalism student Nick Griffith types a story for the latest edition of the Madisonian. The school paper was a big success during the 1997-1998 school year.

Time-Out news anchors David Guarino and Amanda Strickland run through a taping of the weekly broadcast. Time-Out news was a highly talked about subject among students.

Journalism

The well-known Journalism program at Madison Consolidated High School has been run by Mrs. Rosalind Harrell for 27 years. She is a great teacher as many of her students have said in the past. She dedicates her time and patience to her students and the publications and broadcasts.

The Journalism program consists of four classes, Journalism I, II, III, and IV. These classes produce the almost weekly production of Time Out News. They also are in charge of the school newspaper, The Madisonian, which is also distributed to local businesses. Both of these productions are well-known at MCHS, by both the students and the faculty.

Journalism student Nick Griffith stated, "I have enjoyed being a part of the Journalism program for the past two years, and I am looking forward to next year."

Junior Joe Jenner stated, "The thing that I like about journalism is that we are always doing something that we enjoy."

The class requires a certain amount of responsibility along with dedication in order to make everything the class does a success.

Joe Jenner, a junior journalism student, concentrates on his latest article for the school newspaper. The Madisonian staff member won several awards at Ball State's annual Journalism Day.

Students have great time learning a trade!

At the Southeastern Career Center students from Madison and other neighboring communities go to learn certain trades. Madison students are involved in many of the programs the Career Center has to offer. Auto Body Repair is a program that gives the students the skills and knowledge to repair the bodies of vehicles and to refinish and paint them. Auto Body students also repair wrecked or damaged cars of local customers. Auto Mechanics emphasizes the skills to work with gasoline engines. Students learn repair procedures and basic service skills required of an auto mechanic. In Diesel Mechanics, students learn to repair and service diesel powered vehicles, and farm machinery.

“It is a fun change from regular school”

Electrical Trades students with field of industrial Electrical Trades provide the electrical project house built each Trades program.

Electronics prepares students for entry-level employment relating to electronic controls and electronic equipment maintenance, and provides a good background for further education in the electronics field. Machine Trades will train students for employment in precision machining technology. Machine Trades has a transferal-credit agreement with Ivy Tech. Welding students get the opportunity to receive hand-on experiences with both arc and gas welding equipment. The students also have the opportunity to take the AWS Welding Certification test from the American Welding Society. Jimmy Stultz says, “I am planning to be an underwater welder after I graduate.”

Food Management and Production provides students with the needed skills, experiences, and knowledge for a variety of food service occupations, and entry-level management positions. Cosmetology students get actual shop experience and second year students work on customers that come in. Students have to get 1500 clock hours of training then they can take the State Board Exam, and become licensed hair stylists. Students like going to Versailles because it is a change from MCHS and it gives them an opportunity to learn about a career they are interested in. Shannon Lauderbaugh stated, “It is better than just sitting in school all day and it is a fun change.”

Marlene Demaree practices rolling a perm on her paddy doll head. Marlene has been in cosmetology class for two years.

Chris Bell works on his car in Auto Body class. They also work on many other cars that people from around the area take to get fixed. Many of the students said they planned on becoming mechanics in the future.

John Adcock sands the paint off a car so he can paint it another color. John has learned how to do this and many other things in Auto Body class.

Jimmy Stultz, a second year welding student, shows off his welding skills for the camera. He has won several awards, including state competition awards, for welding. Jimmy plans to go into the field of welding after he graduates from school.

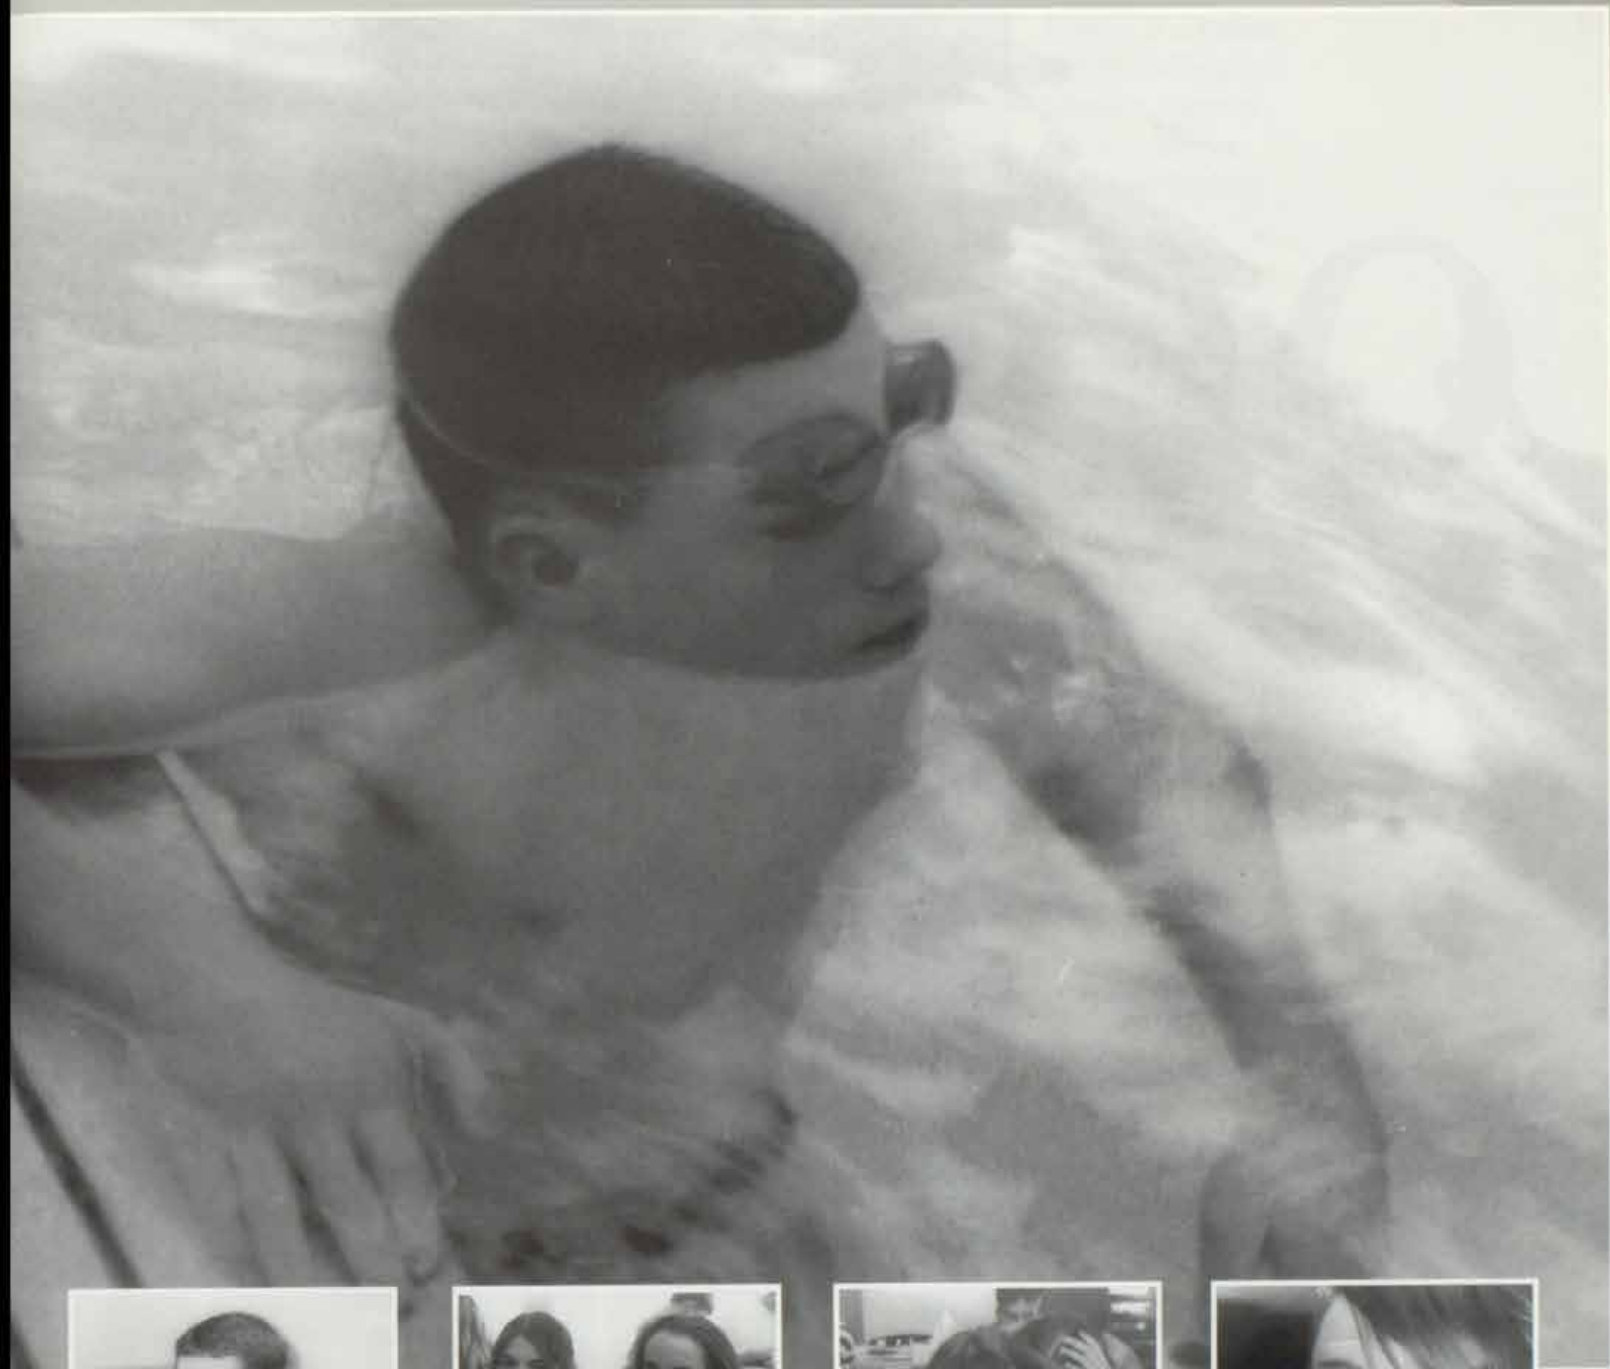

Junior Shannon Lauderbaugh picks out Heather Gabbard's hair before she rolls it for a perm, Nicki Roberts and Amy O'Neal are also in the Cosmetology class. The majority of the girls said they like the class and it is better than regular school.

Freshman Brent Warren played a strong role on the varsity swim team. Many underclassmen contributed to varsity sports.

Underclassmen

Junior Chad Liter looks around in Journalism class. Chad was very active in school events.

Juniors Amy Hossler and Jessica Gray smile during class time. Many students took the long class periods to finish homework and talk to their friends.

Junior Sarah Hoskins attempts to forget about her abnormal sized ears. Students had an ear of a time on costume day.

Junior Aja Bellamy takes a timeout of class to play a little game of "got your nose". Some students were sometimes caught having fun like little kids.

Junior couple Laura Sparks and Jon Adams enjoy watching the JV portion of the Turkey Shootout. The shootout is an annual event played between the Madison and Southwestern basketball teams.

It's a Dirty Job, but Somebody's Got to Do It

As a tradition, the junior class of MCHS has always had the responsibility of putting on the Junior-Senior prom. At the beginning of the school year, juniors sign up for prom committee which meets almost every Friday and after school on several occasions.

The prom committee is in charge of everything from setting dates and picking the colors down to the most minute detail, like choosing the perfect centerpiece for the tables.

A very large, enthusiastic group of juniors joined prom committee this year. Junior Sadi Kimbrell stated that the reason she joined was, "because I was already on the advisory board and I thought it would be a fun thing to do." There are 32 members who must attend the meetings, help make final decisions, and decorate.

It was decided by the committee to hold this year's prom in the cafeteria. The colors were navy blue, silver, and white.

Prom committee member Angelia Bornstein said, "I joined the prom committee because I wanted to have a say in what goes on, and because it would be fun."

Themes are often difficult to pick. But, to no one's surprise, the theme song of the prom comes from the biggest movie of the year, Titanic. It is My Heart Will Go On by Celine Dion, and the theme was "Memories That Last a Lifetime". Committee member Brooke Lockridge commented, "I don't like the theme, but majority ruled and I'll have to deal with it. I will still have fun planning the prom."

Allison Foley shows off her goofy side at a friend's house. Many juniors spent time "just goofing around".

Preparing for class, Junior Nick Griffith gathers his supplies for another long, yet exciting day at MCHS. This was a common scene during the ten minute passing period.

The sophomore class took the first of many new tests called the Gateway Exam. This exam was administered by the state of Indiana to sophomores. The students have five chances to pass the test before they graduate. The exam tests the students up to a ninth grade level of knowledge. average. Many people want to know why the scores were lower than the state average. It could be accounted to this being the first year of the test, or it could be that the students have four more chances to take the test and didn't try very hard. How could we improve these scores? According to Deffenbaugh, "Teachers, students, and parents need to work harder to make sure the students are doing what they are capable."

Tony Humes for President

The Sophomore class has a very bright and talented young man leading them into next year.

His name is Tony Humes. Tony is the Sophomore class president. Along with being President, Tony is also involved in many different activities most of which are to help better his and maybe even the schools future. Tony is an active member of Peer Mediation, Student Council, Sophomore Advisory Boards, Choir, and Peer Counseling.

When asked how he got into Student Council Tony commented, "My sister was on Student Council and she had fun so I decided to join." Tony wanted and liked the position of President because he likes being the boss and doesn't have to be told what to do.

To become Sophomore class president he had to be nominated by the Sophomore Class.

After he was nominated, the sophomore student body voted and Tony won the election. Tony plans to run for President his senior year. He also has high hopes for his sophomore classmates. He stated, "If I'm President my senior year my goal is to have the whole entire class graduate together."

As a very committed member of the choir, Tony plans to further his music career after graduating high school. He plans to attend the University of Louisville to become a professional singer. If his singing career doesn't workout Tony plans to become a teacher.

The Freshmen Class took their annual trip to Washington D.C. during spring break in March 1998. Approximately 100 students ventured to D.C. this year.

The students traveled to Mount Vernon, visited Arlington National Cemetery, and also had the opportunity to tour through the Capital building with 9th district Representative Lee Hamilton. The students saw important D.C. architecture such as the Lincoln Memorial and numerous statues. They took a boat cruise down the Potomac River and a train trip to Baltimore, Maryland. They visited two Hard Rock Cafes and spent time visiting the Smithsonian Institute.

Secretary Nancy Schafer stated, "I really loved the trip. I can't wait to go again." Many students enjoyed their trip and had many memorable moments. Such as when one of the buses was involved in an accident with a red truck.

Participants in the Washington D.C. class trip listen carefully as the 9th district representative, Mr. Lee Hamilton, speaks about his job.

Student Council members walk with a guard as they lay a wreath on the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier. Every year the freshmen class performs this ceremony.

Faculty and Staff

Office aide Mrs. Teri Bentz keeps busy in the office. She was a member of the Booster Club and was often seen at all of the athletic events supporting our Cubs.

Our new principal Mr. Ken Hoffman takes time out for a picture. He could often be found out in the halls saying hello to all of the students.

Reaching for the Outer Limits

Sports

Senior Tom Cope attempts to turn his opponent at the Wrestling Team's Senior Night. Tom had a very successful senior year at the 135 lbs. weight class.

Skip Scroggins cheers on his team as they drove to a scoring position. Skip was a wide receiver for the varsity squad.

The Madison Girls Golf Team on their way to the fall pep rally. The girls' team had a very successful year.

Ricky Spindler, Kyle Crum, Curtis Wright and Adam Center flex their muscle during a swim meet. The guys team liked to scare their opponents before a meet.

Intercepting Opportunities

With 5:10 on the clock in the first quarter, Charlestown's quarterback faded into the pocket. As the Cubs defensive line closed in on him, he looked for the open man. Just as he released the ball Madison's defensive back Keith Cox caught the opportunity coming towards him. Before Charlestown knew what had happened, Cox had snatched the ball and headed for the "Cub Endzone." While running toward the endzone, Cox was being closely trailed by a Pirate defender, when Darryl Yarbrough came from behind to protect his teammate with a crashing blow to the Pirate. The crowd went wild. It was the first of many awesome plays for the Cubs.

Commenting on the season Senior Mike Casper said, "The biggest goal was to play as a team and I think we really showed it during the BNL game." The Cubs went on to beat the Stars in overtime 26-20, with the scoring touchdown being made by Nick Griffith.

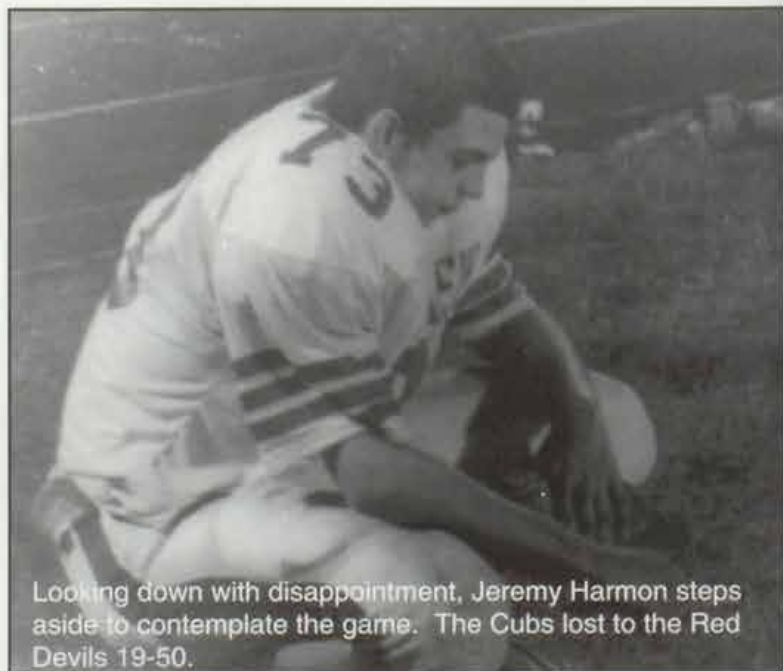

The Cubs ended the season with 3-7 record, which is improvement from the 1996-1997 season record of 0-9.

At the awards banquet Dustin Bentz and Mike Casper shared the Most Valuable Player of the year. Also receiving awards were Lionel Smith and Chris Bass, Most Valuable Offensive Back, Erick Hall, Most Valuable Offensive Lineman, Mike Casper, Most Valuable Receiver, Dustin Bentz and Jeremy Fulton, Most Valuable Defensive Lineman, Nick Griffith, Most Valuable Linebacker/Defensive End, and Chad Liter, Most Valuable Defensive Back. Lionel Smith received Top Rusher, Ryan Schafer, Senior Scholarship Award, Patrick Murray, Mental Attitude Award, Chad Liter, "Big Hit" and Erick Hall, "Golden Spike."

In the HHC, Mike Casper and Dustin Bentz gained All Conference. Getting Honorable Mention in the Conference was Jeremy Fulton, Chad Liter, and Lionel Smith. Three players were named to the All-State Honorable Mention in Class 4A. The players were Chris Bass who lead the Class 4A in passing, Mike Casper who lead the Class 4A in receiving with 1,210 yards, and Dustin Bentz.

Senior Zach Miller helps with the coaching duties while injured. Miller was out with various injuries.

Getting ready, Sophomore Brandon Lee prepares for the next play. Lee had 12 receptions for the season.

Looking down with disappointment, Jeremy Harmon steps aside to contemplate the game. The Cubs lost to the Red Devils 19-50.

When every inch counts, Junior Chad Litter tries to break the tackle. Litter played free safety and punter.

Year in Review

- Chris Bass broke five school records including: Most yards passing, highest pass percentage, and most pass completions in one game. For the season, he held the most pass attempts and pass completions.
- Mike Casper broke five records including: Most pass receptions and most pass receiving yards in one game. For the season, most pass receptions and most pass receiving yards. For his career, most pass receiving yards.
- The record for most blocked kicks in one game was broken by: Dustin Bentz, Andy Miller, Ryan Mitchell, and Darryl Yarbrough.

One Step Closer

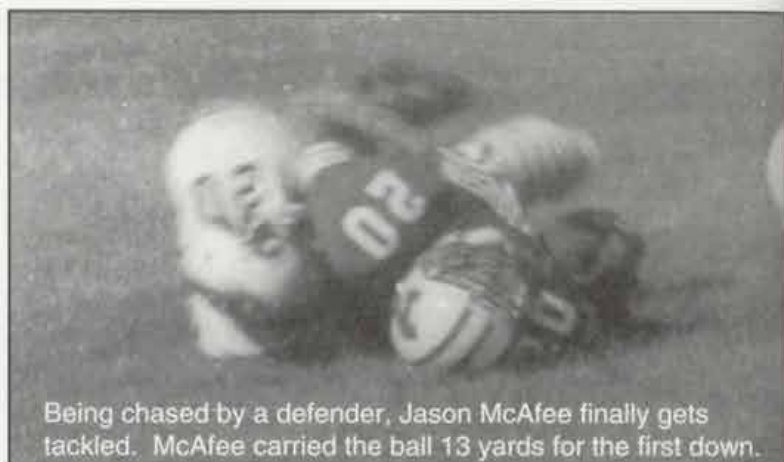

Buzzzzzz, the scoreboard hits 00:00. The starting lineup runs onto the field to their positions. As the cheers are being heard from the crowd the nerves are setting in. Hoping to get the tackle, the defensive line is ready. The referee blows his whistle to start the first play of the game.

Coach Jeff Jenkins commented on the season, "This year was very educational for everyone." Jenkins also stated, "There are a couple of players that will definitely be effective next year on varsity." Jenkins shared coaching duties with first time coach Trent Taylor.

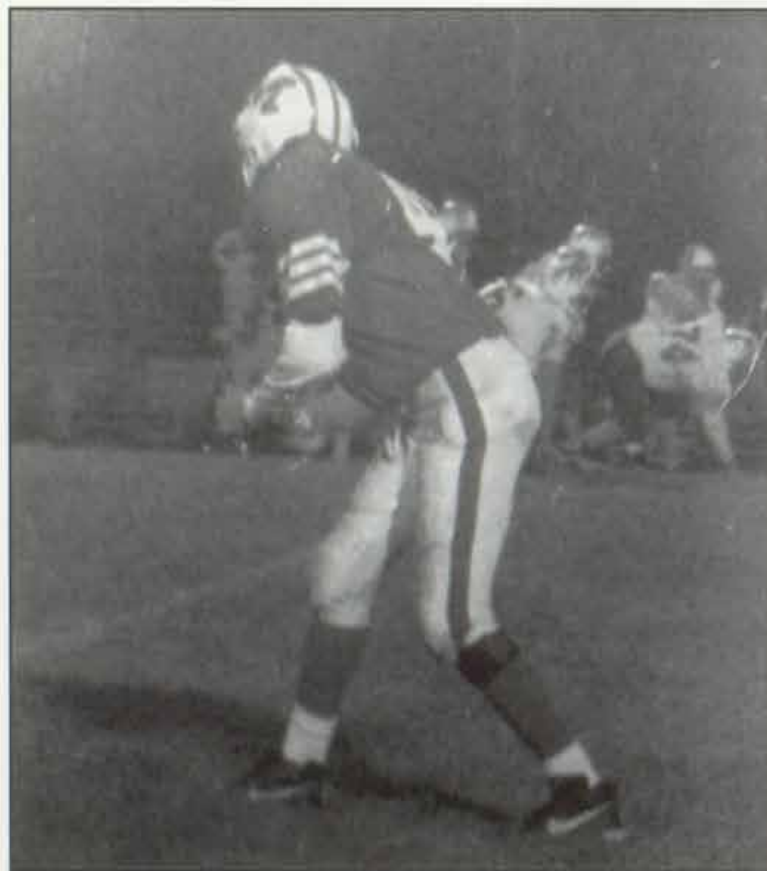

"The defense wouldn't have been the same without my mad sacking skills," stated Junior Jason Perry. Also commenting on the season Michael Duckworth said, "It was a lot of fun being coached by Trent Taylor." The Cubs ended their season with a 1-6 record.

Danny Hardin received the J.V. Player of the Year award.

Danny Hardin gets some advice from Head Coach Al Wilcox. Harden shared the duties of quarterback with James Hall.

Being chased by a defender, Jason McAfee finally gets tackled. McAfee carried the ball 13 yards for the first down.

Preparing for the next play, Justin McKay gets on the line of scrimmage. McKay played wide receiver for the Cubs.

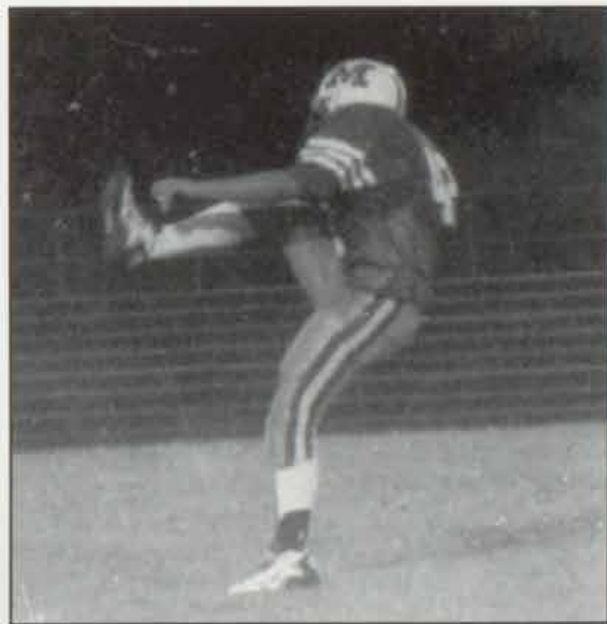

Tackling the opponent, Sophomore Skip Scroggins uses the right technique to take him down. Scroggins also played some varsity during the season.

Trying to get away from the defender, Joe Heath looks for the opening. The Cubs had a 2-6 record.

Punt Returner Mike Rector hopes to get past the defensive line. Rector returned the ball 10 yards for the first down.

Freshman Adam Lare punts the ball to the awaiting New Albany player. The Cubs lost the game to the Bulldogs.

Tackling A New Level

Walking down Cub Lane you can hear the cheers from the faithful Cub fans. Upon entering the front gates you can faintly see the separation of the teams on the fields. Both teams are preparing themselves for the game ahead. The start of the game is just about to get under way.

As Coach Dana Hooton and Mike Turner make their final talks, the team gets mentally ready. Coach Turner commented about his team, "Defensively we played hard and hit well. There were always more of the opponents shaken up after a play than the Cubs."

Freshman Dustin Getz said about the season, "We didn't have a good record, but it doesn't show how hard we have really worked."

The award given was: Rookie of the Year, David Rector.

Ending the season with a 2-6 record, Coach Hooton stated, "Overall this is my fastest team. Several players will help the J.V. and varsity next year."

Volleyball A Year to Remember

Step inside the doors of the Franklin County gymnasium and you hear the sound of a group of girls screaming and cheering for their teammates. The Madison Varsity Volleyball team was battling it out against the Greensburg Pirates in the final game of the first ever Class 3A sectional. With one glance at the scoreboard it was obvious the girls went in the match determined to win. As the whistle blew, the Lady Cubs on the bench cheered for their teammates came running out onto the volleyball court.

This marked the first sectional championship in 17 years for the Lady Cubs. Regan Gettelfinger said, "I was a little nervous until we started to win and then it went away." From nervous to ecstatic the team won the 1997 sectional.

The Varsity Volleyball team went 18-19. They played tough competition such as South Ripley and Jeffersonville. Senior Kristen Ford said, "I feel that Jeffersonville was our best game as a team." Regan Gettelfinger felt that it was a good game for the Lady Cubs also. Senior Sarah Cooper and Junior Sayra Hoskins said, "The Bedford North Lawrence game was the best team game this year." No matter which game it was that the team played the best at, the Varsity Volleyball Cubs had a memorable season overall.

Showing their team spirit before a game, the Lady Cubs talk about working together as a team. The Varsity team went 18-19 this season, and won the class 3A sectional.

Year in Review

- Winning the Sectional for the first time in 17 years was a thing to remember for the Lady Cubs.
- The bus rides home were Senior Kristen Ford's favorite memories from this year.
- Winning the Madison Invitational was a favorite memory commented Junior Amber Dionne.
- Senior Sarah Cooper commented that she liked volleyball because she could hit people with over passes.
- Junior Sayra Hoskins commented that she felt the teams best game this year was the HHC game against Bedford. Seniors Sarah Cooper and Regan Gettelfinger agreed.
- Volleyball banquet awards went to Molly Holt, All-Conference, Most Valuable Player and Offensive Award; Kari Park, Defensive Award; Whitney Geisler, Setting Award; and Kristen Ford, Academic Award.

Practicing for a higher level

As the door slams behind you, you hear it echoing throughout the gym. You climb the stairs and you realize you are the first one there. As you look around you decide to sit on the third row so you can see above the rail. You sit there patiently waiting for the Junior Varsity volleyball team to come out on the court. Finally other people begin to arrive. Then the music begins to blare through the gym and out come the volleyball team. Some players begin warming up. Some are serving over the net, others start by stretching out, and the rest help to retrieve the balls.

As the theme song to Men In Black starts to play over the radio a few of the volleyball players break-out into different types of dance steps. The songs keep changing from It's All Good, by M.C. Hammer to Step by Step, by New Kids on the block and then back to Men in Black. The team keeps warming up, stopping to dance every once in a while.

This years Junior Varsity team went 17-4 this season after playing lots of tough competition, like Jeffersonville and Seymour. They beat South Ripley 16-14: 15-11. Sophomore Lindsay Imel said, "I feel our biggest accomplishment was that we won more games than we lost." They played hard and ended up victorious in their season.

Some favorite memories for this year's team were "The bus rides home," comments Junior Julie Ferguson. Sophomore Lindsay Imel said, "The thing I like most about volleyball is the team." Many memories have been shared and many more will hopefully become for the volleyball team next year.

Freshman, Kathy Hay practices on her own for the Freshman Volleyball team. This years freshman team that went 5-8 overall.

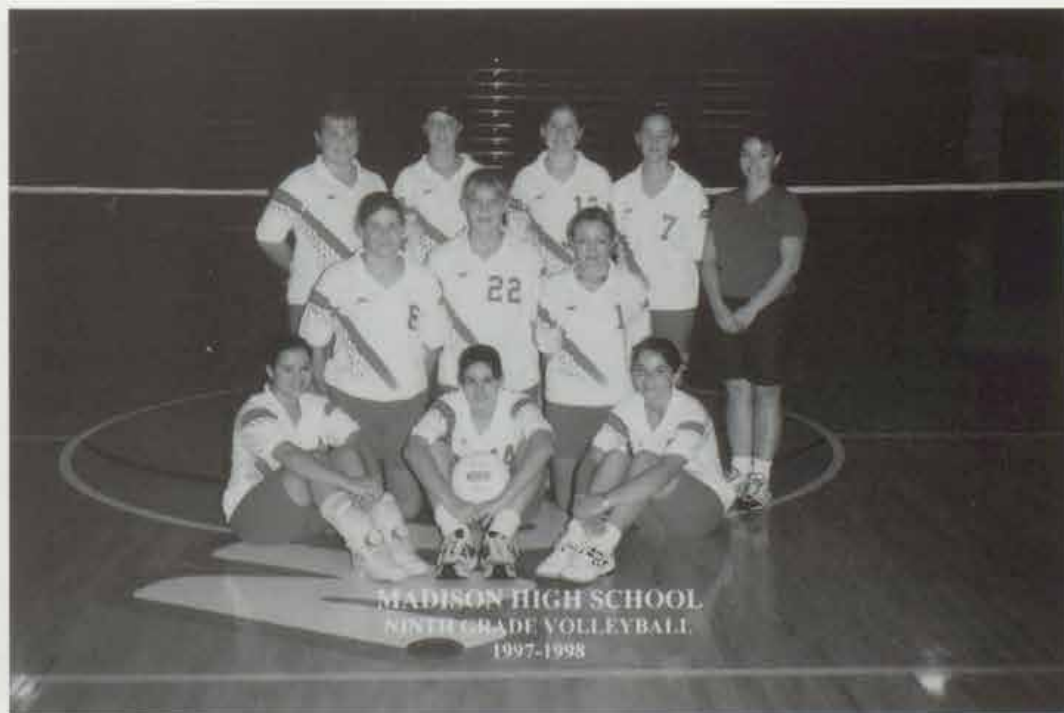

A Whole New Class

As you walk through the doors of the Madison Consolidated High school you begin to walk down the hall of fame. This is where the dreams start. This is the place where many kids play sports, and many kids hope that someday their picture will hang in this hall.

The Freshman Volleyball team sits patiently waiting for their practice to begin. They deal with being pushed from one side of the hall to the next, yelled at for bouncing the volleyballs, or talking to much.

The freshmall volleyball team had many hardships this year. They played tough competition like Bedford North Lawrence and Jeffersonville. They also had some good times. Freshman Kathy Hay said, "I liked being able to communicate with the team." Freshman Caroline Goodknight said, "I liked when we went to a Haunted House together."

The Freshman team went 5-8. Through teamwork they won against Jeffersonville 15-2,14-16,16-4. They had a really good season, and did a lot of things together as a team.

Struggling to Win

The Boy's Varsity Soccer team started their season with one loss and one win in the opening Jamboree. The team, however, had a lot to deal with since they lost eight out of eleven starters from last year.

Justin Geisler stated, "We had a pretty average season, but the team was young. We had to work hard to get anywhere."

They did play hard, but at times fell short of their goal. A win-loss record of 5-12 showed this. The Madison Cubs soccer team consisted of only five seniors, while there were around twenty underclassmen that played.

Both Geisler and Dustin Furnish, seniors, said the game against Seymour was the best one they played. The Cubs lost this game 0-1, but Furnish said, "It was the best because we played the whole game really well and we didn't fall apart like we do a lot."

Another exciting game for the Cubs was a game against the New Albany Bulldogs. This was a big conference game for the boys and the 2-1 win was an inspiration.

Madison lost in the first round of Sectionals to Shawe with a score of 0-1. The Cubs defeated the Hill-toppers in regular season play. B.J. Gray and Furnish both stated that this loss was a real eye opener for them.

Furnish said that it showed him that his team "had no desire to win", which was shocking. B.J. explained, "Losing to Shawe in the Sectional opener was devastating to me. I can't believe that we lost."

Junior Scott Boldery waits for the opposing team to kick the ball after a penalty was called on Madison.

- Adam Center and Derek Black received the Most Improved Award.

- Patrick Cantwell received the Mental Attitude Award.

- B.J. Ellis was recognized as the Outstanding Freshman.

- Team captains were B.J. Gray and Justin Geisler.

Sophomore Patrick Cantwell concentrates as he tries to control the ball, before passing it to another player for the score. This was Cantwell's first year to play on the varsity team.

Dustin Furnish, senior goalie, punts the ball after picking it up, in hope that his team might score. Furnish stated, "We could have had better teamwork, but at least we won a few games."

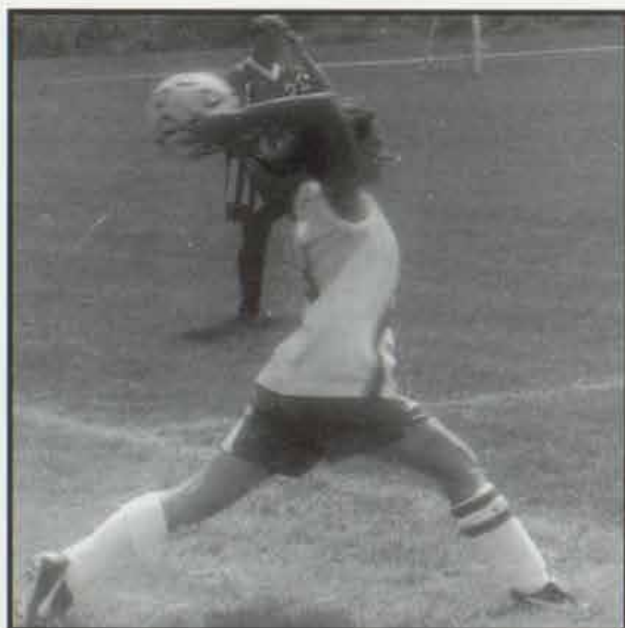

Girls Soccer Kicking It Forward

On October 13 the Madison Lady Cubs went for their first sectional win ever. Early on Sophomore Kristin Schafer kicked the ball high in the air just out of the reach of the Jeffersonville goalies stretched out arms. Schafer comments, "It's a goal I'll never forget." Schafer's goal claimed to be big. An even bigger goal was made by Kaycee Jackson as she scored the game winning goal early in the second half.

The Lady Cubs got their first sectional win by beating Jeffersonville 2-1. Junior Goalkeeper Whitney Andress comments about the Jeffersonville game, "We played very well in the sectionals and the scored showed." Unfortunately they lost in sectional championship game to Floyd Central 3-1.

This was only the second year of existence for the Lady Cubs soccer team. They improved their record of 3-9-1 a year ago to 6-7-1 this year. Senior Amanda Teltow comments, "I liked this year more because we played as a team and won some games."

Awards for the Cubs were Amanda Teltow, Team Spirit and Leadership, Outstanding Halfback; Annette Crooks, Captain; Whitney Andress, Goalkeeper Award (159 saves), All Conference Honorable Mention; Melissa Enoch, Outstanding Halfback; Jessica Gray, Most Improved Forward, Letter Jacket; Aimee Hossler, Outstanding Forward; Kaycee Jackson, Outstanding Halfback; Brittany King, Outstanding Fullback, All Conference; Joy Petscher, High Scorer, All Conference Honorable Mention; Ruth Ann Wilburn, Most Improved Fullback; and Coco Black, Most Improved Halfback.

Sophomore Kristin Schafer throws the ball to a teammate. Schafer was nominated to the All Conference Team.

Junior Aimee Hossler blows by a defender from Greensburg. This was Aimee's second year as starter.

Joy Petscher, junior forward, gets ready to score another goal. Joy got a hat-trick (three goals in one game) in the game against Greensburg.

Amber Limerick, junior, races after the ball. Amber's season was shortened by a knee injury.

Year in Review

- The Lady Cubs soccer team won their first ever sectional game this year against Jeffersonville.
- They had two players named to the All Conference team and two on Honorable Mention team
- Record improved from 3-9-1 to 6-7-1.

Gaining Victory

On a bright sunny 60 degree day, the boys Cross Country team approached the starting line with determination and skill. With their shoelaces tied tight, their adrenaline was pumping. From the sound of the gun, the guys were off in the race, October 11, 1997 of the Hoosier Hills Conference.

Their muscles tensed as they began their course of success. "Let's go guys," yelled Coach Kevin Yancey, who has been their coach for the past three years. The young athletes then pass the halfway point. Their eyes squint for the sight of the home stretch. Running, breathing, running, breathing. A constant pattern enter their head until they see the end, for they force out their regular pace to a sharp burst of energy to get their best time.

This was the scene of the meet on October 11, 1997. The young men worked very hard and were pleased with their victories of the season, with 66% of their races won.

Senior Ricky Spindler said, "Even though we didn't qualify into any really big meets, I was still proud of the way our team worked together."

Other teammates felt differently about the situation. Senior Brandon Mathis said, "I didn't run to my full ability. It wasn't up to my standards."

At the awards banquet, there were numerous awards given out. The Most Valuable Runner was Brandon Mathis. The Most Improved Runner award was given to Eric Jones. The Scholastic Award (Highest GPA) went to Kevin Crabtree. The Mental Attitude award was given to Wilber Dattilo. The Lou Knobel Leadership Award went to Ricky Spindler and the Rookie Award was given to Kyle Woodfill.

Third Row: Coach Kevin Yancey, Nick Nolan, Curtis Wright, Kyle Woodfill, and Brian Cole

Needing every breath of air, Senior Brandon Mathis runs his heart out around the course October 11. Mathis also shows his skills on the Madison Cubs Track team.

Freshman newcomer, Curtis Wright presses onward through the grueling 3.2 mile course at the HHC meet. When Wright is not running he spends his time training for the Madison Swimming Team.

"You're almost there," screams the crowd to Senior Wilber Dattilo as he exaggerates his steps to stay ahead of his opponents. Dattilo is also involved in the MCHS Track team.

With determination, Freshman Kyle Woodfill sets his pace through the race. In his first year of Cross Country, Woodfill also is involved in wrestling and track.

Winded With Success

The tension is in the air. The Girls Cross Country team stands around stretching and warming up for the big regional race, October 25, 1997. The eager girls await at the starting line ready for the gun shot. BOOM! Getting their own pace for the long two and a half mile race, the coldness of the wind make their eyes water.

"Come on girls, keep it going!" yells coach Jackie Meinders. "You're halfway through."

The thoughts of only two more curves and the home stretch enter all the girls minds. With the warm glow of sweat, they keep running on the grassy course by the complex, breathing rapidly and trying to push for their best time. The constant cheering from the crowd pound in their red frozen ears, all the way up to their conscience saying, "Don't give up.....Don't give up."

As the long stretch through the tunnel with flags covering the poles approach, Sophomore Molly Dattilo crossed the finish line placing second. She walks it out with her weak frigid legs, as if they were jello. Looking for her teammates, another Lady Cub crosses the line. Junior Heather Williams finishes 20th. The both of them wait patiently for the other girls. All of a sudden, Jamen Ferguson comes in placing 34th, then Andrea Robinson in 36th, and Anne Maas in 56th.

This was the scene of the Girls regional meet. Junior Sarah Brandenburg was injured and therefore could not complete her season. Heather Williams says, "I feel I improved in my times because of hard summer work." They went away satisfied with qualifying for semi state.

Molly Dattilo qualified for State and placed fourth. Dattilo said, "I felt all-around that I ran better this year than last year, and my times improved. I felt really good about qualifying for State."

At the awards banquet, Molly Dattilo received awards for Most Valuable, Semi State Champion, 4th at State Meet, and Sectional Champion. The Lou Knobel Leadership Award was given to Heather Williams. The Mental Attitude award was awarded Andrea Robinson. The Rookie Award went to Jamen Ferguson, and the Most Improved went to Anne Maas.

Sophomore Molly Dattilo pumps it out at the regional meet of the year. Dattilo placed second at regionals and qualified not only to Semi-State, but to State also, where she placed fourth.

The three girls, Sophomore Molly Dattilo, Junior Andrea Robinson, and Freshman Jaman Ferguson rest and walk out their tiredness of the victorious regional meet. Their finish qualified the team to semi-state.

Junior Heather Williams, with determination and strength, strives to get her best time as she glides around the curve. Coach Meinders said, "Heather was definitely the one who showed leadership for the team."

Sophomore Anne Maas ends the last stretch of her regional race on the cold day of October. Maas ran a total of sixteen races during her competitive season.

Six hours after the first tee time, four of the top five Lady Cubs' golfers had finished 18 holes and were awaiting the completion of Karen Dennison's round to determine the team score. Dennison was putting on the 18th green as the four other girls and their parents discussed their individual scores. The fathers of the girls came up with a figure that put Madison one stroke ahead of Evansville Mater Dei. The team celebrated and Waltz and Walro unintentionally screamed as they learned of their victory. The Lady Cubs then went to the scoreboard to see the final tally, but were shocked to find that they had miscalculated, and lost Regionals by three strokes. "We were so upset because we wanted to go on so bad," Walro stated.

Although Regional was a disappointment, the rest of the season was a great success. With a record of 40 and 7, the girls golf team was Sectional and Conference champs. Dennison and Waltz were awarded all-conference plaques while honorable mention in addition to those Regional ended on a Coach Newell is golfers that they were more holes. With a Emily Waltz tied for third place of the individuals to go on to state. Waltz won the playoff with par on the first hole and a birdie on the second. Unfortunately the next week at State didn't go as well for her.

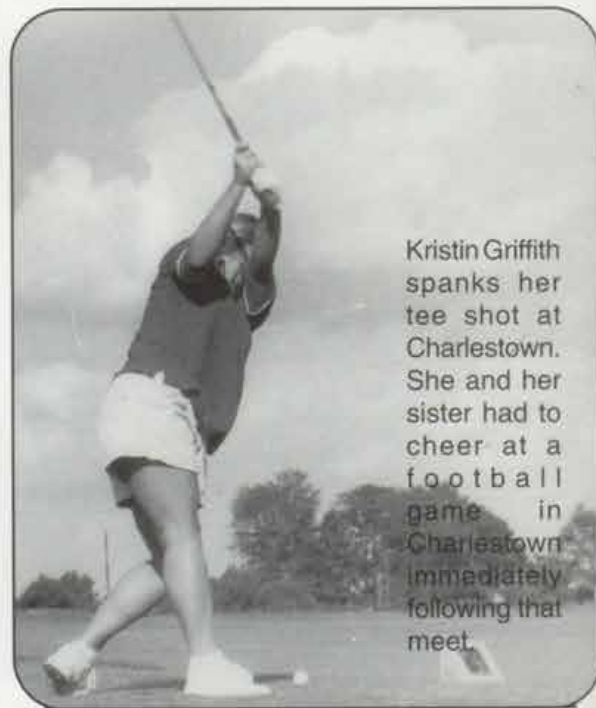

These champion titles were great for the girls, but the real fun was during the practices and on van rides to away meets. "Nothing's better than trying to hit 'buckets'" said senior Amy Hoffman, captain of the team. Chasing deer off the course and yelling back to the rude people who yell "fore!" while driving by the first hole also provided entertainment during practices.

Look for up and coming golfers: Stacy Griffith, Karen Gorbett, Sarah Marksberry, and Amanda Robbins-Myers. This year was Gorbett and Marksberry's second year on the team and Robbins-Myers and Stacy Griffith's first. "For most of us, next year is our last year and we're going all the way to state. It's been our goal for two years and we're going to accomplish it our senior year." Kristin Griffith said with confidence.

Shooting For State

The 1998 boys golf team set their season off with a bang. The team was invited to participate in the third annual Hall of Fame invitational. The Hall of Fame invites only the top fifteen teams and the Cubs gave a good showing, finishing second with a team score of 321.

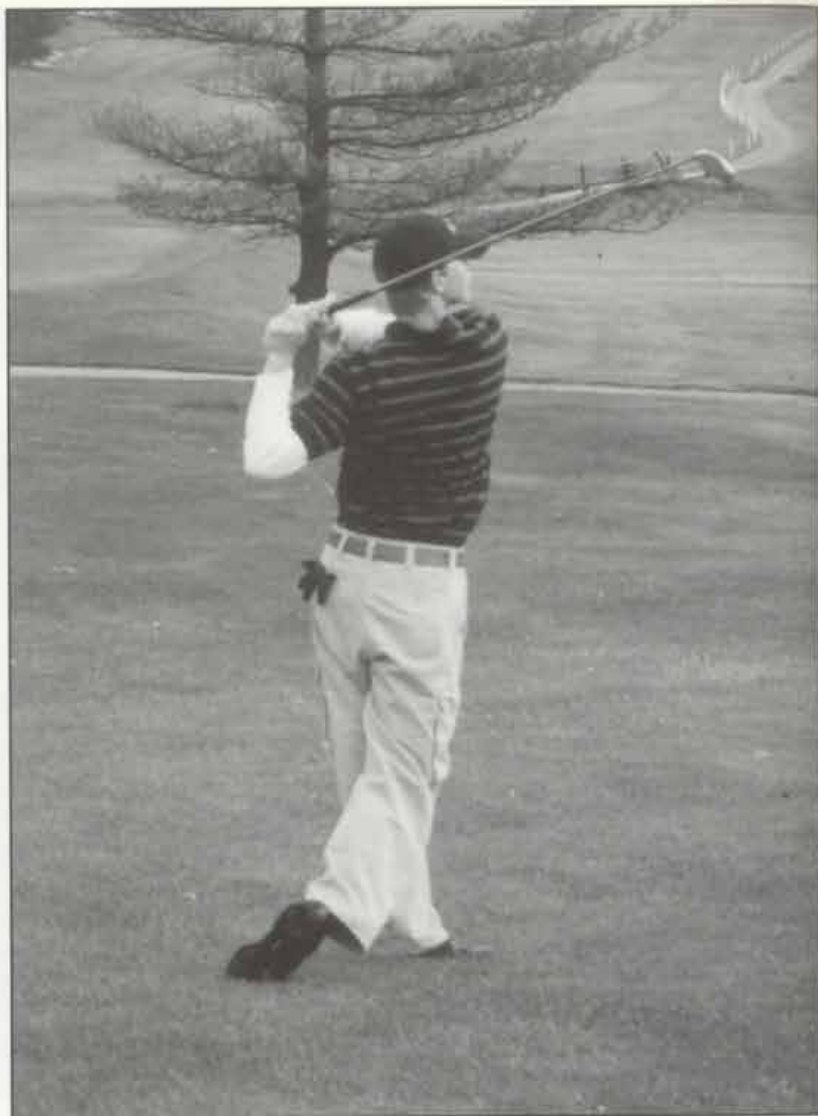

Starting the season ranked fifteenth, the Cubs quickly took over the number eight position. Senior Jason Brown commented, "With the team climbing up the poll this quickly we are sure to keep rising, its great to be doing this well my Senior year."

In their final sectional warmup this year's golf team broke a fifteen year old school record. The Cubs shot a 292 against Jennings County to break the old 18 hole record.

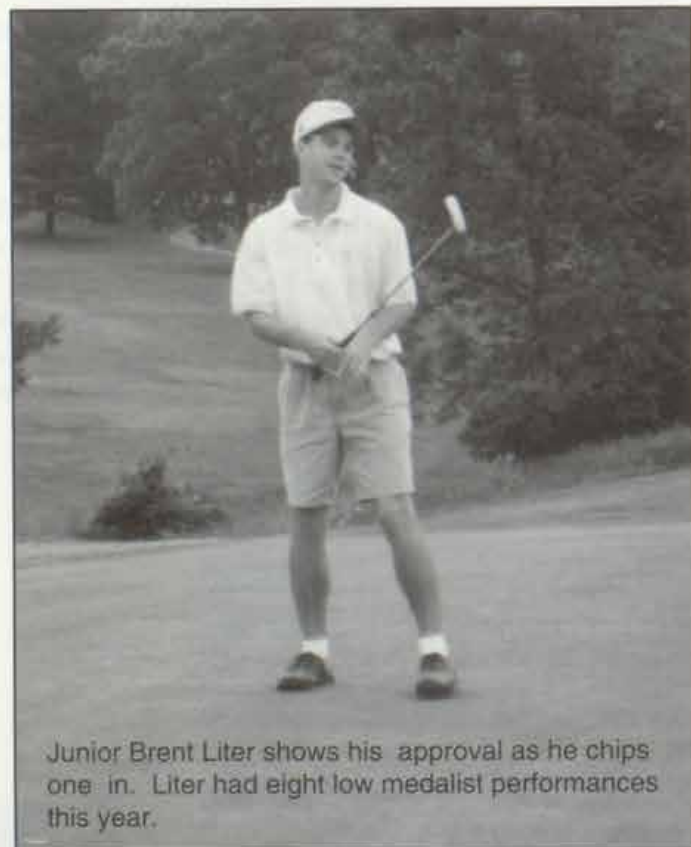

The Cubs sweep through the sectional with a team score of 301 and Blair Shadday, Jason Brown and Brent Liter captured the first three individual places.

The boys had tough conditions and tough competition at the regional this year. The boys golf team carded a 298 to finish third, which was just enough to advance them to the state competition.

The Cubs had their eye on the state competition and hoping to capture the state title. Senior Blair Shadday commented, "Going to state last year was a great experience but being able to go as a team was exciting. I wish we would of played better but we held our ground."

Junior Zac Laughlin watches his tee shot during a match. Laughlin was a number one player for the J.V. team this season.

Cheerleading Have a Full Year

The varsity Cheerleading squad kept as busy as any other sports team this year. They started off the year with a few changes, one being a new coach, Angela Estes. She quoted, "This year we learned to do a lot more with a lot less. They were a great bunch."

Their busy schedule included a one-day camp at Indiana University, a three-day summer camp here at Madison, and they combined with the Southwestern Cheerleaders to do a dance at halftime of the Turkey Shootout. "Working as a team is tough, but worth it in the end. It's a great experience," comments Junior Lisa Mahoney.

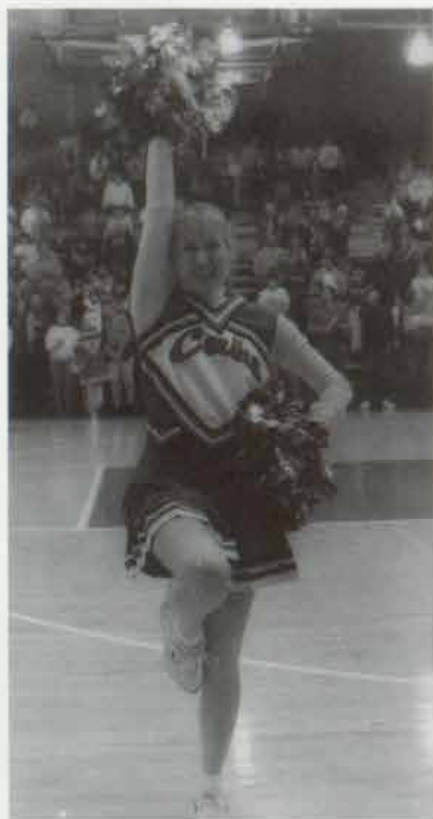

They held a Cheer Clinic for young girls during the summer. The girls got together during football and basketball seasons to perform a dance and several cheers with help from the cheerleaders. This was a great chance to get the girls involved with cheerleading at a young age.

The girls had a few new experiences this year. They got to travel to semi-state with both the girls and boys basketball teams. Some even had to cheer at the girls semi-state and the boys sectional in the same day.

Gaeli Welch was the recipient of the Mental Attitude Award and the Captain Award. The Tumble Award went to Kristin Griffith. Krista O'Neal received the Scholastic Award. The Spirit Award was given to Nichole Constant. Lisa Mahoney was the recipient of the Base Award.

Cheerleaders keep the fans on their feet

As you walk into the gym your overwhelmed by the silence, but as you approach you begin to hear the powerful chanting coming from the gym. Who is it, none other than the cheerleaders. Even though the crowds were not nearly as large for the junior varsity football and basketball games, the junior varsity cheerleaders still did their best to keep everyone on their feet and to keep the team pumped up.

The season started off a little rocky for the girls seeing how 3 of their 5 members were freshman and for the first time ever cheering at the high school level. Freshman Jenny Lee comments, "I like cheering at a high school because we get to do more stunts and there are much cuter guys." But quickly they began to bond and further improved themselves as the season continued.

Not only was the J.V. squad new and somewhat inexperienced this was also coach Angela Estes first year as cheerleading head coach. Junior Christi Wolfschlag said, "Angela is a really good coach and is always positive".

At the banquet at the end of the season Angela said, "This year we learned to do a lot more with a lot less. They were a great bunch".

The awards presented were Most Improved, Christi Wolfschlag and Sarah O'Neal; Mental Attitude, Nicole Menke; Scholastic, Stacy Griffith; Spirit Award, Jenny Lee; Most Valuable Cheerleader, Stacy Griffith.

A Long Way To The Top

A long way to the top was a very true statement, in more than one way, when it came to this year's freshmen cheerleading squad.

As many know, freshmen games have a very low attendance and therefore it is not as exciting for the cheerleaders to partake in. Being a freshmen cheerleader requires a lot of time and dedication without getting the recognition like higher levels of cheerleading sports do. This makes it a long way to the top for those who choose to take the challenge.

This year's freshmen cheerleaders did their best to make the freshman games more fun and exciting. The girls put their heart into everything and managed to keep a positive attitude despite the low crowd numbers. Freshman Adrienne Harrell said, "Cheering at the high school level helps to teach you self-discipline".

At this year's cheerleading banquet freshman coach Ginny Welch gave many awards, but she commented, "The highest award that I gave this year was the mental attitude award which was received by Sarah Phagan".

Other awards given were Leadership Award, Adrienne Harrell; Spirit Award, Jenny McKay; Best Jumps, Michelle Dawson; Best Base, Mandy Cope; and Most Improved, Amanda Ralston.

Boys Basketball

Going Out With A Bang!

The Madison Varsity Basketball Team had an incredible season this year. With six varsity players returning, Madison had a very strong and experienced team going into the 97-98 season. Being a very crowd-responsive group, Madison thrives off the enthusiasm of the fans. After a slow start with their only conference losses to Jennings Co. and Jeffersonville, they took off with wins against New Albany, Seymour, Graceland Christian and Columbus North. Madison ended their season with a 20-5 record.

Their last game came against Indianapolis Cathedral in the class 3A semi-state final in Evansville. That marked the first time since 1962 that Madison made it past the regional. Junior Bubba Yarbrough commented, "This was the greatest season ever. But next year it will be better cause we're gonna win."

Receiving awards at the awards banquet were Chad Liter, Most Charges; Kyle Oliver, Hoosier Hills All-Conference Honorable Mention and Don Server Mental Attitude Award; Chris Bass, Field Goal Percentage, Two-Point Field Goal Percentage; Ryan Feider, HHC All-Conference Honorable Mention; Bubba Yarbrough, HHC All-Conference Honorable Mention, Slam Dunk State Finalist; and Bryan Bullington, HHC All-Conference First Team and All-State Honorable Mention.

Impressive Teamwork Helps Record

Madison's Junior Varsity basketball team had an impressive season holding their own with record of 13-7 and a conference record of 4-3.

As his fourth year as the J.V. Coach Greg Ison stated, "We had an impressive season because the whole team played together and not so much as individuals." The Cubs had experience with Justin Seaborne being the only Junior and the rest of the team was occupied by seven sophomores.

Ison also commented on the season by saying, "As this team progressed from the beginning of the season to the end they made good strides with the exceptions of a few games and I enjoyed coaching this team."

Character Proved Key To Winning

The Freshmen Boys Basketball team had an exceptional season this year. The Freshmen ended the year with a record of 16-8 in the regular season and a conference record of 7-4.

The highlight of the season was during the Batesville Tournament where Madison took home first place. They started off playing Roncalli in the morning game. "They took an early lead and kept it throughout the game," commented Coach Kevin Porath. In the second game Madison blew out Batesville on their home court to win the tournament. Coach Porath also commented, "I'd like to recognize the guys who stuck through the season. It showed real character."

Philip Pflug leaves it hanging after a free throw. Pflug was one of the key players in this game.

Put the Balla in the Hola

And No Whining Either!

Confident and having a good time are the phrases to describe the Lady Cubs during their regular season. Frequently you would find the girls messing around at practice and after the games. They were positive that they would win the Sectional and keep up the tradition. In fact, when asked if she thought the team would advance to Regional, Tatum Lytle replied, "Heck yeah!" She was right. The girls Varsity Basketball team clinched the sectional and prepared for regional held at home in Madison.

Karen Dennison, who played both JV and Varsity, explained, "One of the big reasons we wanted to win regional so bad was because we didn't want to see another team cut down our nets."

Tension built for the entire week of February 22, 1998. This was not a new thing for the Lady Cubs, though, for they had won the Sectional last year as well. But they were determined this year to do one thing different...win Regional. Problems arose when Senior Molly Holt ended up with a stress fracture in her knee the week before regional. She said, "I didn't even know if I could run on it until warm-ups before the game." Luckily she was able to play and ended up being the lead scorer for the game.

With Corydon nipping at their heels the entire game, Madison pulled together in the end to beat the Panthers 47 to 42. It was a great game and Madison had accomplished their year-long goal.

The following weekend the girls traveled to Jasper to play Franklin for Semi-State. That game did not go as well for them. Team members commented that it took them a quarter of the game to figure out that the referees weren't calling the fouls and were just letting them play. Franklin was used to this type of play and therefore had one up on Madison. Although they lost by five, the Lady Cubs stayed with the Grizzly Cubs throughout the game. The difference came as time ran down and Franklin simply scored more baskets.

The team has a lot of personality and many distinct characteristics. For instance, they prayed before every game. This has been a tradition for many years. Also, one of their favorite phrases was "put the balla in the hola" and their number one rule was "NO WHINING!" On the trips home from away games the girls frequently sang. One of their favorite tunes was "The Littlest Worm" and they made their debut performance of this song at the pep rally following their win at sectional. It was a stressful season and a fun season.

JV goes 12 and 4

The JV team had a good season. They won all but four games and had a lot of fun accomplishing that record. This was Tiffany Park's first year to coach the girls. Karen Dennison reported, "The team got great enjoyment out of making fun of our coach when she had trouble with basic spelling skills. For instance, 'defence' and 'ofence'." "She also had trouble drawing sketches of the court," players commented. But all and all she's smart, knew her stuff and did a great job coaching.

Two players played both JV and Varsity - Amanda Poling and Karen Dennison. Also, Natasya Johnson and Kathy Hay are two players that started out on JV and are pictured in the JV team picture but were moved to Varsity during the year. Starters for the team included Lacy Riley at guard, Karen Dennison at point guard, Jessica Speer at forward and Mary Fritter, Amanda Poling and Julie Ferguson rotating at center and forward.

Team members explained that they hated scrimmaging Varsity because it was a "Catch 22." Since JV and Varsity practiced together, it depended on how well the Varsity did for when everybody got out of practice. When the girls scrimmaged, if JV played bad and the Varsity beat them, then they got to go home early but JV would have to get yelled at for not playing well. But if they did play well, and Varsity didn't look so good, then practice was longer.

It was a fun season and players are looking forward to Varsity next year.

The girls had a good time this year. The team got along well and enjoyed playing together as a small team. Their favorite game was the Jeff game because it was an unexpected win. One characteristic that defines their team is that they played the country song "swingin" during warm-ups of most of the games. The reason is because the Coach always told them to "swing the ball". Also, one thing Amanda Robbins-Meyers won't forget is the time she was late getting ready and accidentally wore her shorts backwards for a game. Maybe next year she'll be on time for every game.

MIB

In every tournament that Madison went to they would take a special set of singlets. These all black outfits are meant to be worn every time a Madison wrestler makes it to the final round of a tournament. Wearing those black outfits would have meant a berth in the state finals. Only two out of the four wrestlers that went to semi-state got to wear the singlets, but all four of them had outstanding seasons.

Seniors Derek Black, and Dustin Bentz were the only two to go to state. Sophomore Jason McAfee was only one win away before getting beat in qualifying round and Senior Tom Cope got thrown in the spladel, a wrestling move, to get knocked out in the first round. McAfee states, "It was awesome going to state. I'm disappointed that I lost but I'll be back next year."

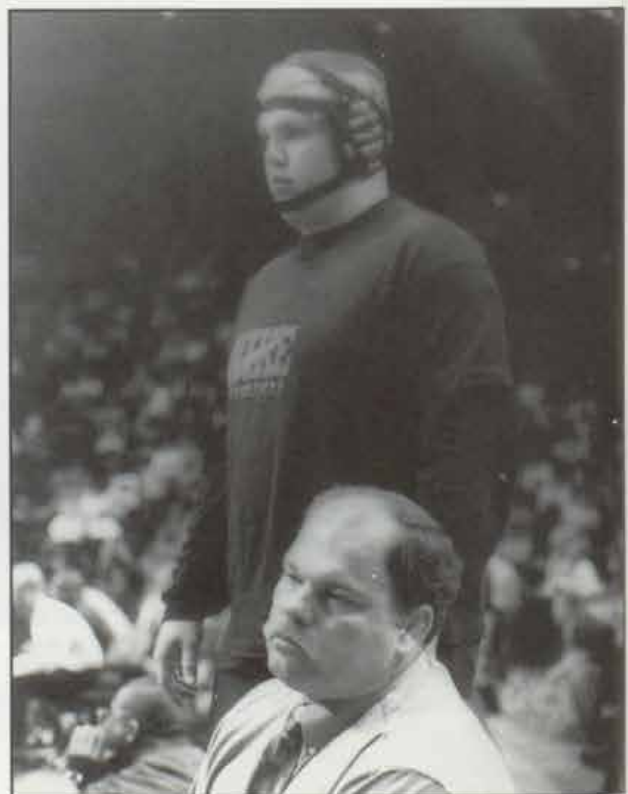

This season produced a lot of highs for the Cubs. The team got Coach Ken Brunner his 200th career coaching win and the team won their sectionals and finished second in the regionals. They also sent Derek Black and Dustin Bentz to the state finals.

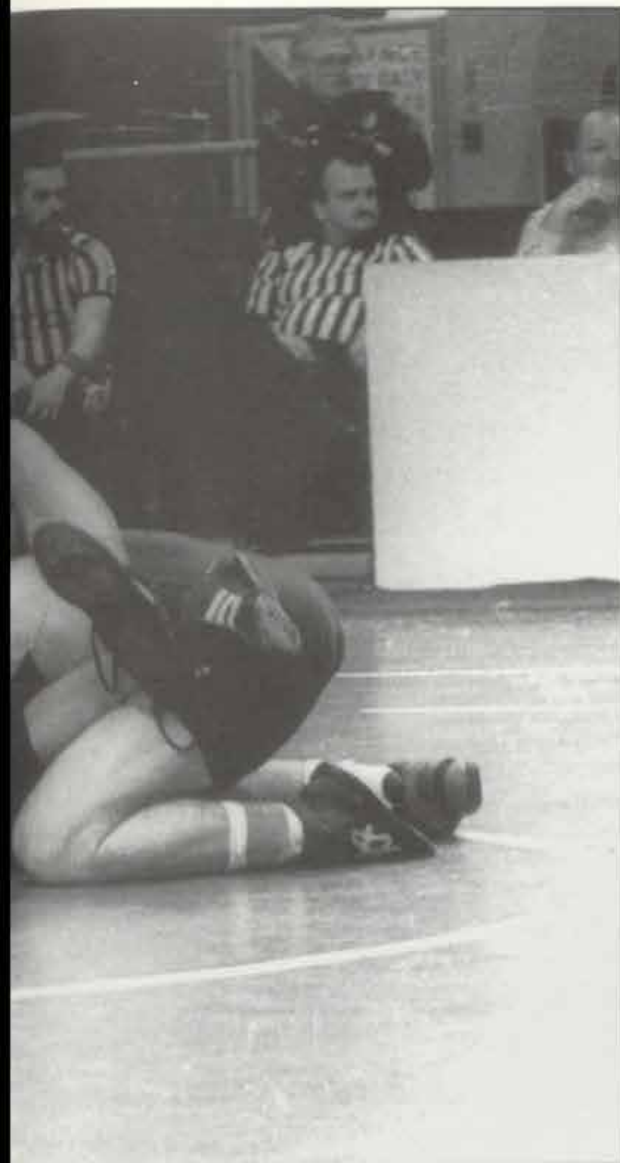

The season also produced a low. Coach Ken Brunner retired as coach after the season ended to become the new athletic director at Madison. Coach Brunner ended a 13 year career with a 201-95-1 record. Technique Coach Ray Black Jr. will take over next season. "I'll be sad to see him go but I'm glad Ray is taking over because we all like him and he really knows what he is doing," said Sophomore Jason Perry.

Senior Tom Cope attempts to turn his opponent to his back. Cope finished his season at the Seymour Semi-State in the 135 pound weight class.

Senior Dustin Bentz mentally prepares himself before his match at the State Finals in Indy. Dustin finished his season with a fifth place finish in the Heavy Weight division.

Senior Derek Black puts in his legs to keep his opponent from escaping at the State Finals. Black finished his season placing fifth at state and was named academic all-state.

Year in Review

- Derek Black became the first Madison wrestler to ever win the Semi-State.
- Dustin Bentz became the first Madison wrestler to become a three time Jeffersonville Classic winner.
- Derek Black and Dustin Bentz both finished fifth place in the state in their weight class.
- Coach Ken Brunner won his 200th career coaching win.

Girls Swimming

Pushing Limits

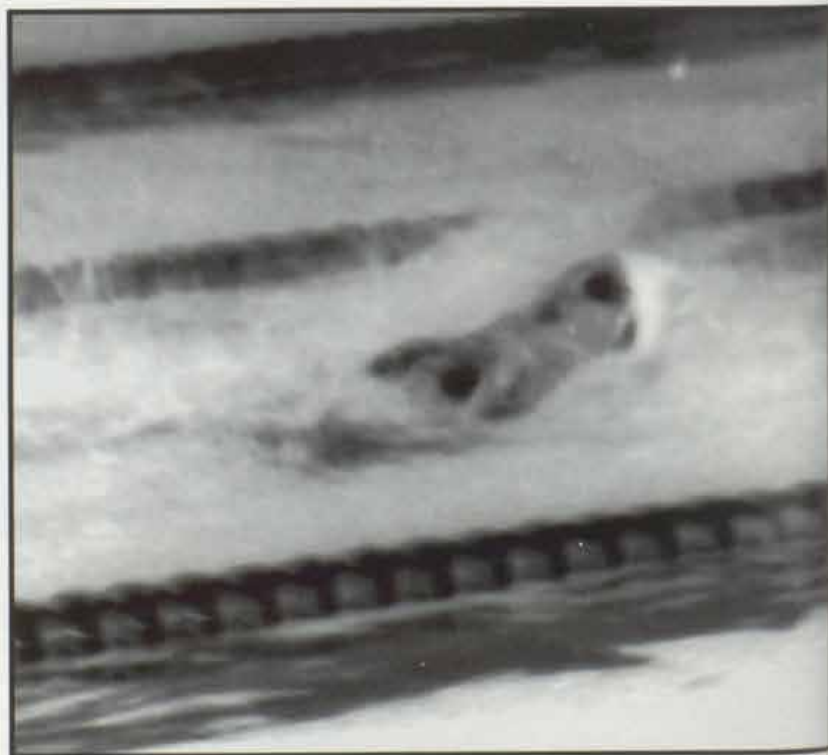

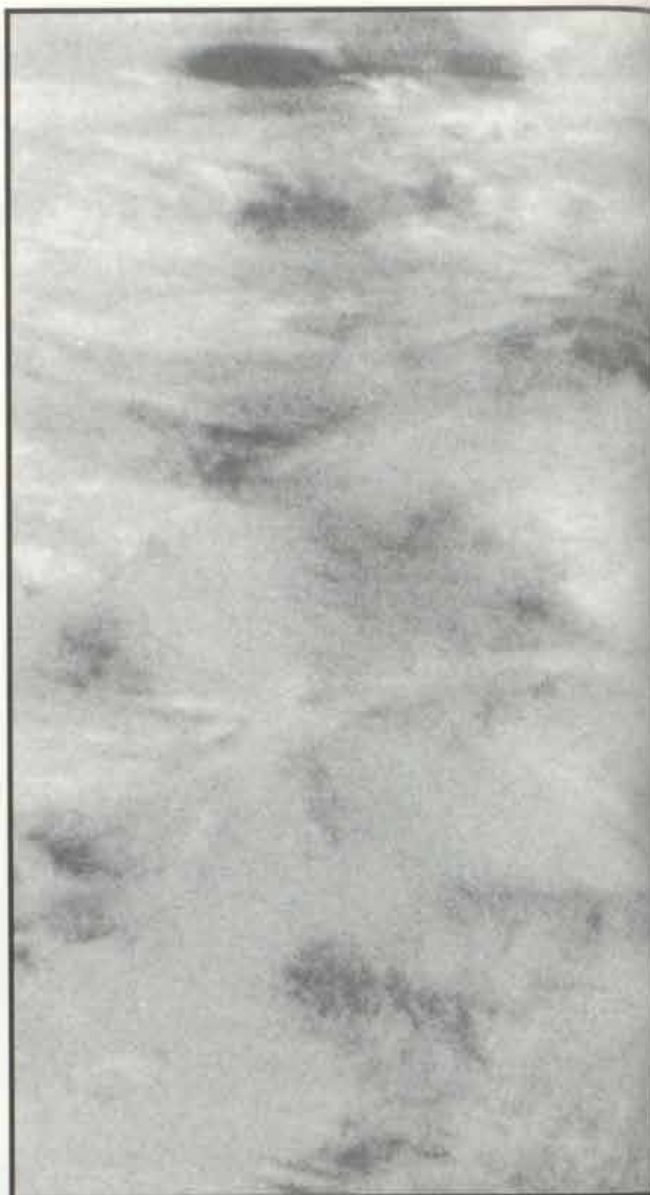

"Up on the blocks!" A loud voice booms through the still air, "Swimmers ready." A buzzer goes off and the swimmer shoots through the water. Her arms are flying as she glides through the water. Pushing herself to beat the person next to her and most importantly achieve her best time. She raises her head out of the water, only enough time to take a short deep breath, before her head is swallowed by cold water. Thoughts are racing through her head, if only she knew how well her opponent is doing and how her time was doing, if only she could take a quick look, but she doesn't because it will only slow her down. All of a sudden she feels the hard wall stop her and she surfaces, she has finished the race.

The Madison Girls Swim Team got off to a rocky start when they lost several girls that decided not to swim due to the changes made in the coaching staff. But after the team decided to recruit some first year swimmers, the girls ended up with a team of twenty, a step up from the nine girls that made up the team last year.

The girls did not have a season filled with championships and honors, but they were a group of dedicated individuals that gave every thing that they had in order to perform at their highest level at competition time. The girls had a season of many tough practices that were more often than not began before most students their age were even awake.

"The morning practices were not all that bad once you got used to them, but getting used to them was the hard part," stated Junior Jennifer George.

Sophomore Kari Long does her part in the girls relay. Long also played volleyball for the Lady Cubs.

Junior Lindsay Marnett pushes herself to finish her laps. Marnett was a key part of the team.

Boys' Swimming

Breaking Limits

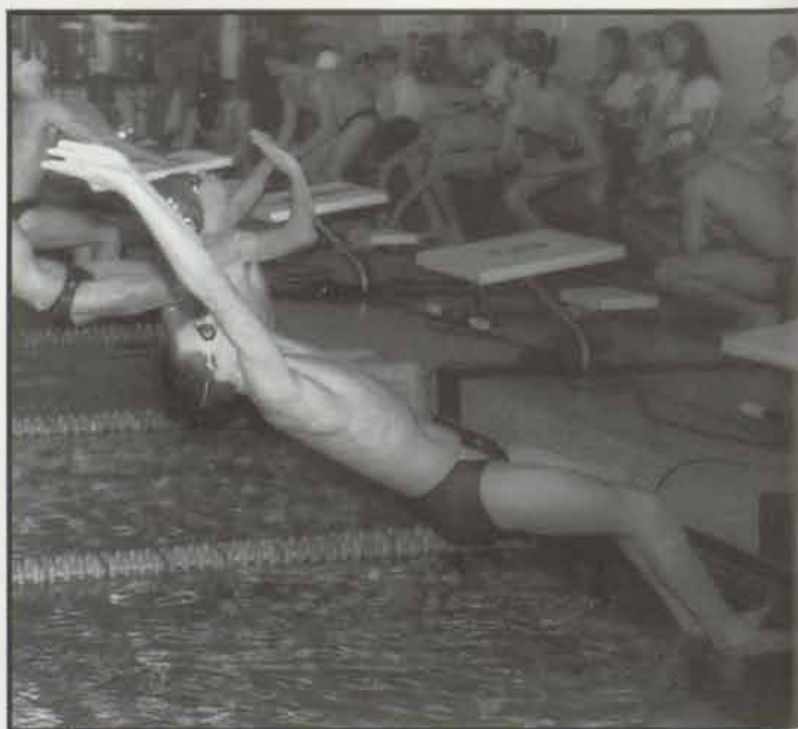

It is almost an hour before anyone else is awake and a few dedicated individuals are at the Junior High School swimming laps in the freezing cold water. For the boys swim team, it is just another practice attempting to get prepared for their grueling season, but if it would have been anyone else it would have been the worst moments in their life.

This team almost enjoyed breaking their limitations every time that they entered a pool. The Boys Swim Team had a very trying season that ended with placing 6th at the Hoosier Hills Conference Tournament and 6th place at the sectionals.

"Although our season was not filled with glory it was filled with fun and satisfaction," stated Freshman Curtis Wright. The team gave it all they had, but they were held back by the fact that the team was so young. The team had a lot of freshman and sophomores that contributed a great deal to the team, but due to the lack of experience made some rookie mistakes.

Bjorn Sundmand and Wilbur Dattilo were additions to the team this year by joining the team in their senior year. Bjorn, a foreign exchange student, and Dattilo, who had wrestled in past years, had never been on a swim team before. The team hopes to use the youth to their advantage next year, by having young yet experienced swimmers. "We were a young team that made a few mistakes, but we will be back stronger next year," Coach Rob Peddie stated.

Senior Ricky Spindler lunges into the water. Spindler participated in cross country, swimming and track.

Freshman Nick Auxier rests his head on the deck of the pool after a hard race. Nick also participated in soccer as well as swimming.

Baseball

Season of Dreams

The Varsity Cubs baseball team accomplished something that not many other teams do- they were semi-state runner-up. Also, the team was ranked #1 in the state for class 3A.

The Cubs had a successful season before bowing out with a 33-2 record. They broke the school record for most wins in a season and the record for most consecutive wins in a season.

Coach Gary O'Neal stated that "the whole team played very well and was outstanding in every aspect. Every player on the team contributed athletically and with a positive attitude." The season was also special to "Coach O" because he received his 500th career win.

Senior leading pitcher Kyle Harsin commented, "It was the best year of baseball I ever played and we were one of Madison's best teams ever. I'll really miss all the guys."

The Cubs' tremendous season was brought to a close when they were defeated in the final game of the Jasper semi-state by the Jasper Wildcats 9-8. The Cubs did win the first game of semi-state by defeating West Vigo High School 3-2.

Junior Collin Schafer watches the ball to see if it goes foul. Schafer was one of the Cubs leading batters this season.

JV Team Sees Three Big Wins

Cubs Defeat Jennings County, Floyd Central, and New Albany

The JV Cubs had an outstanding season with a record of 8-6 with three of the eight wins coming from three big schools with teams that are tough to beat, Jennings County, Floyd Central, and New Albany. The team was led mainly by an experienced group of Juniors. Coach Tim Whitaker stated that "The Juniors were a big help to the team and when they were off playing at a Varsity game, it made getting a win a little more difficult."

The team as a whole worked very hard. At the JV level, it is mainly a game to become a better ball player. Coach Whitaker said "The team improved greatly throughout the season and by the end were playing very well." Junior Kyle Dunn commented, "We had a lot of fun this year. It would've been better if we won a little more though."

A big disappointment at the end of the year came when the HHC tournament was rained out and not rescheduled. Keith Black said, "I wish we could've played in that tourney. I think we had a good shot at winning."

Junior Joe Jenner backs away from a wild pitch by a Jeffersonville player. Luckily, the pitch missed and Jenner got a chance to smack the ball for a single.

Freshmen Gain New Experiences

Freshman baseball offers new experiences to everyone on the whole team. In Junior High, baseball is not offered, so this is a chance for players to learn to play together as a team. The record this year was a disappointing 5-11, but it was a good learning experience.

Coach Jim Brawner commented, "We were a good team and we should've won more games. We had some trouble-makers at the beginning of the year, but after they were dealt with, we played much better as a team."

Nick Nolan said "The best play of the season was when the whole team was in on a pickle." And, it was unanimous, as stated by Larry Theiring, "The best game of the year was against Columbus East."

The freshman team was also disappointed about not playing in the HHC tournament. At the end of the year they were playing better and had a good chance of winning the tourney.

John Hoskins hands the bat to Jonathan O'Neal after a disappointing at-bat during the Jac-Cen-Del game. At the beginning of the season, batting wasn't a strong point for the Freshman Cubs, but in the end, they improved a great deal.

Nick Nolan sprints into home plate for a run while the catcher fumbles to catch the ball. RBIs and unearned runs helped the Freshman team win several games this season.

Swinging for Success

The girls varsity softball team had a successful season with 17 wins and only 5 losses. The team was led by coach Diana Goins and also assistant coaches Tiffany Park, Brandy Petty, and Leanne Griffin.

The team had five senior team members who helped to serve as good examples for the younger team members. These five girls were Christy Heitz, Kristin Torrance, Amy Hoffman, Amanda Runyon, and Talisha Schotmiller. The team practiced hard to accomplish great things and although they did not win any tournaments they gave it their best.

Although the Lady Cubs made a valiant effort during the season, they fell short at sectionals falling in the first round to Bedford North Lawrence. Other highlights of the season was placing 4th at the HHC tournament. With losing only five seniors, the Lady Cubs look back at a solid season, and are very optimistic about the season to come.

Boy's Track

Boy's Track Program Continues Success

The 1998 Boy's Track season got off to an exciting start with Trent Taylor taking on a new role as head coach. Taylor was an assistant coach to Al Wilcox during the 1997 football season. He has previously coached football and track at Goshen High School and Goshen Middle School. Junior track team member C.J. Streutker commented, "I think Coach Taylor is a great coach. I think now with one year under his belt, we'll win sectionals next year. We need more athletes to come out for the team and work hard." Coach Taylor stated that his first year as the Madison boy's track coach has been "a good experience."

The 31 member team started conditioning on January 26. Coach Taylor states, "We pride ourselves on the fact that we were one of the earliest, if not, the earliest (in the state) to start our track conditioning." In any sport, athletes and coaches alike know that conditioning is very important if a successful season is in view.

"The track and field players have been very coachable and we won some (big) meets this year," commented Taylor. "Madison Invitational was our best meet of the season. It was one of our team goals to win it, and we accomplished that with a record point total."

There were two accomplishments that the team can be very proud of. One was the 3,200 meter relay team beating the school record with a time of 8:28.6. The other was Andy Miller qualifying for state finals in shot put. Coach Taylor states that he is "happy with the team's overall performance for the season, but they still have the capability to improve."

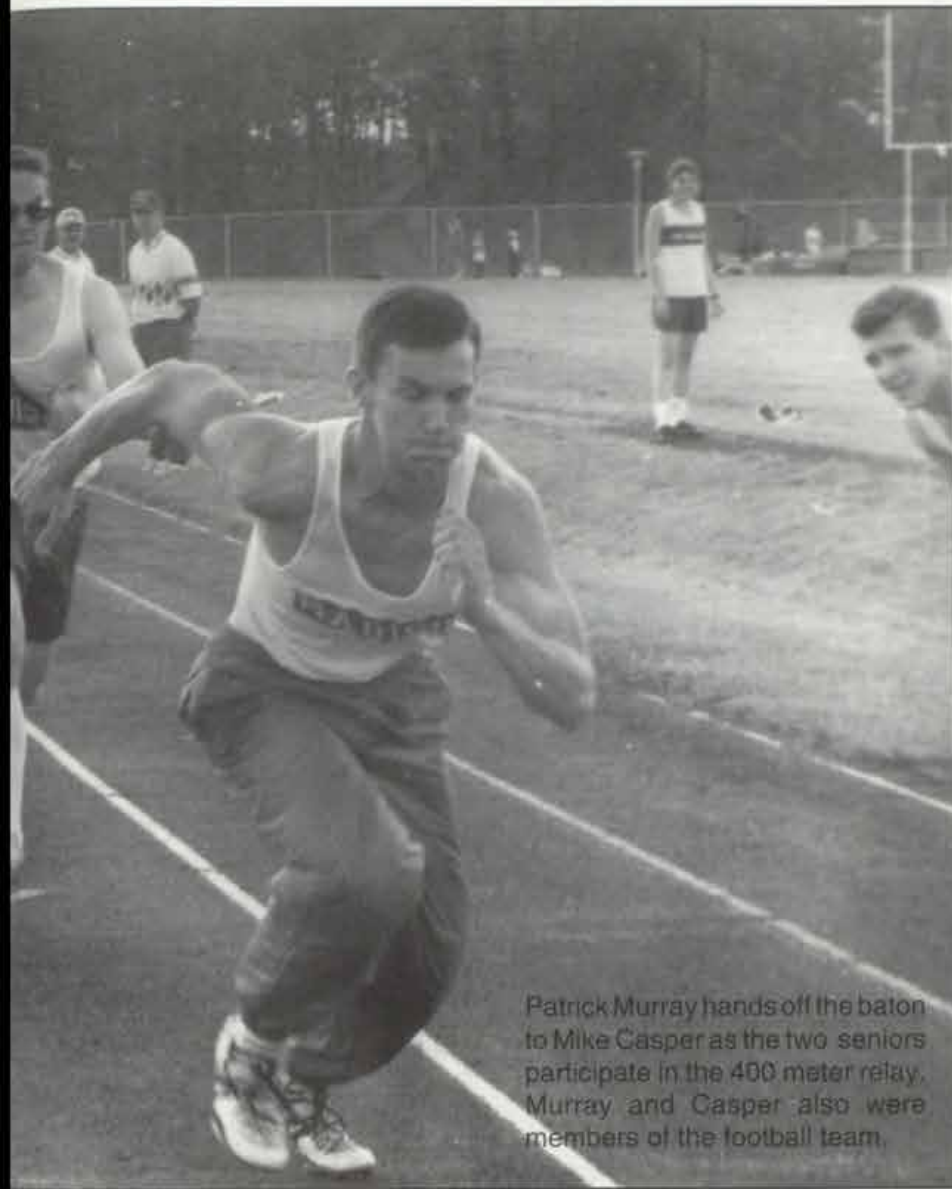

Senior Ricky Spindler doubles over in recovery after running last leg in the 3,200 meter relay. Spindler was also a member of the cross country and swimming teams.

Sophomore Dorie Haywood soars through the air in an attempt to clear the pole vault bar. Haywood also participated in wrestling during the winter sports season.

Year In Review

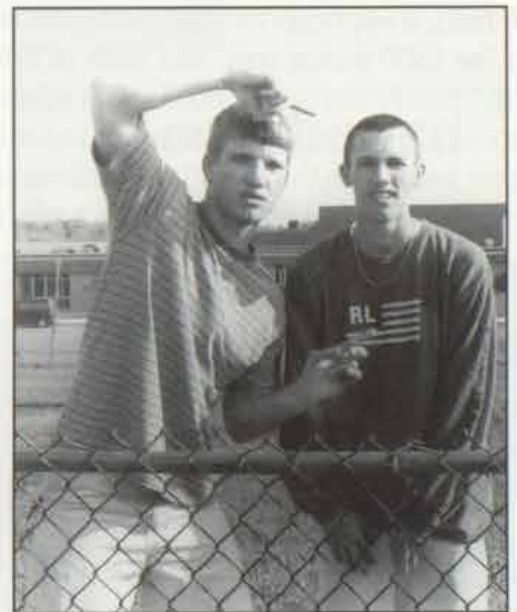

- Trent Taylor became new head coach.
- Started conditioning on January 26.
- The team won the Madison Invitational with a record point total.
- The 3,200 meter team comprised of Brandon Mathis, Scott Boldery, James Hall and Ricky Spindler broke the school record with a time of 8:28.6.
- Andy Miller went to State Finals in shot put.

Patrick Murray hands off the baton to Mike Casper as the two seniors participate in the 400 meter relay. Murray and Casper also were members of the football team.

Girl's Track

The girls track team had a very good season this year, some girls went to Sectionals, Regionals, and even State competitions. Senior Gaeli Welch said, "Since this was my first year being involved with track, I have learned so much. Going to Regionals for the 400-meter relay was an awesome experience." Mrs. Hooton the girls track coach stated, "We have had an exceptional season, and 21 out of the 25 team members have received a varsity letter which is unusually good."

There has been many school records broken in track this year. Sophomore Kisha Stone broke a seventeen year old school record in the high jump event. She beat the old record by an inch at 5'5". She won the Conference, Sectional, and Regionals in this event, and went on to finish sixth in the state competition. Other record breakers include Tacia Coker, Heather Williams, Jaman Ferguson, and Molly Dattilo for the 3200 meter relay. Joy Petscher set the record in the 300 meter hurdler. Molly Dattilo, a sophomore distance runner, finished third in the 1600 meter run, and fifth in the 3200 meter run. Molly currently holds two school records. Sophomore Kristin Schafer set a meet record at the Big Blue Invitational, she also went to State but didn't place.

Junior Joy Petscher takes a practice jump in the long jump event. Joy had a good season this year, she set the school record in the 300 meter hurdles with a time of 48.9seconds.

Sophomore Dawn Smith is running the 200 meter dash. This was her first year running track.

Senior Tacía Coker is practicing running a relay. Her relay team broke the school record this year.

Senior Lisa Peters throws shotput in a meet at Madison. This was her main event.

Boys Tennis

Cubs Struggle, but Play Strong in Tournament

Emotion filled the air as the team walked off the Greensburg High School tennis courts on the first Saturday in October. This was the last time the Madison tennis team would walk off the courts together.

The emotion wasn't all negative. Sure, this meant the end of the Cubs season, but it was the end of a successful season. The Cubs not only made it to the championship match of the Greensburg Sectional, but they also won their last four matches before being ousted from the tournament in the championship by favored Greensburg. Madison compiled a total record of 9-13 for the season.

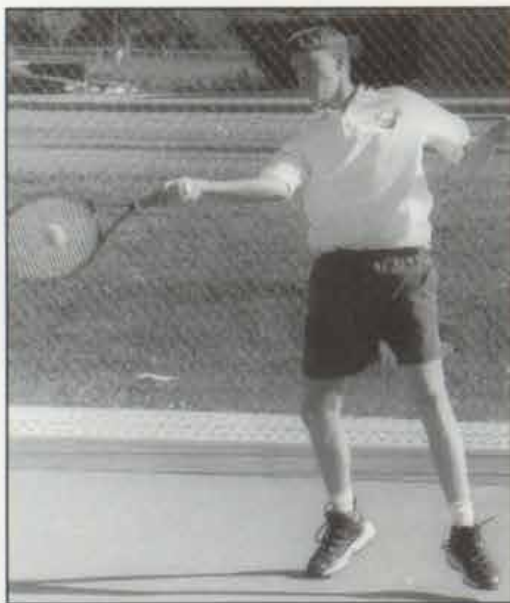

Junior singles player Collin Schafer, who was 3-0 in the sectional, commented, "It was a little rough at the beginning, but things began to come together as the season moved on."

The Cubs finished eighth in the Hoosier Hills Conference tournament, but they hope to improve on that next season. Madison had several players see major action this year. A few of them were Seniors Jason Brown and Chris Westall, who played number one doubles. Another key Senior was John Hunter who played number two doubles for most of the season.

Other players seeing extended action for the Cubs included Juniors Collin Schafer, Nick Meacham, and David Alcorn. Alcorn stated, "We had a very good year and maybe the sectional championship appearance will give us some momentum going into next year."

At the awards banquet, the Singles Award went to Nick Meacham. The Doubles Award went to Jason Brown and Chris Westall. Collin Schafer and David Knouf were given the Mental Attitude Award, while David Alcorn received the Most Improved Award. John Hunter got the Players Award.

Junior David Alcorn smashes a forehand in a match against Jeffersonville. Alcorn played number one singles and number two doubles for Madison this season.

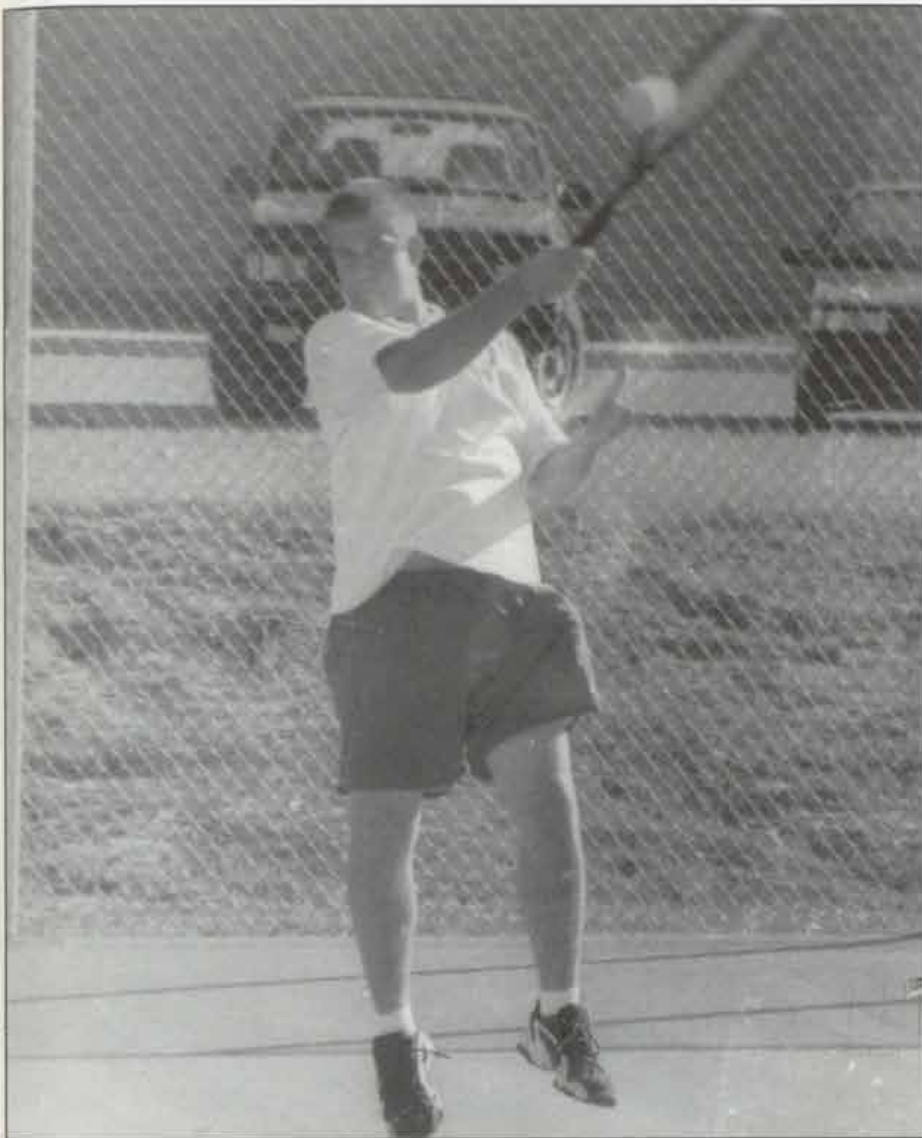

Junior Collin Schafer stretches to a ball in a match against Floyd Central. Schafer played number three singles for the Cubs this season.

Senior Chris Westall wins a point for the Cubs in a match against New Washington. Westall played number one doubles along with fellow Senior Jason Brown.

Senior Jason Brown crushes a forehand down the line in a match against Jeffersonville. Brown played number one singles for half of the year, then was switched to number one doubles.

Year In Review

- The team finished second in the sectional making it to the championship match.
- Madison finished 8th in the Hoosier Hills Conference Tournament.
- Junior Collin Schafer recorded a record of 3-0 during sectional play.

Positive Attitudes Help Team

The Lady Cubs had a successful season with a record of 11-6. Their HHC record was 4-4. The team was led by three seniors, two juniors, and seven freshmen. This group of freshmen will be the future of the MCHS tennis team program. Freshman Angi Boggs stated, "It's been a fantastic experience. The seniors will be sadly missed next year." Friendship proved to be a key factor for this year's team. Ashley Bear commented, "The best thing about tennis is that we all get along and we will be friends for a long time."

The team had another successful season, but not as good as last year's record setting one, which was 16-4. "The positive attitudes that the girls showed helped make them successful," commented coach Dennis Munier.

The awards given at the banquet were: Number One Singles, Pam Brown and Number One Doubles, Regan Gettelfinger and Emily Waltz. Gettelfinger and Waltz also received the Golden Bagel Award given to the players with the most 6-0 sets, and the Most Sets Won with 31. Jenny Lee received the Most Improved Player award while Kristen Ford received the Senior Academic award. Ford, Lee, and Amber Dionne were recognized for Most Three Set Matches, while Lee and Dionne received the Most Tie Breakers award.

Junior Amber Dionne hits a powerful backhand while warming up. Backhands were a key to success for Dionne.

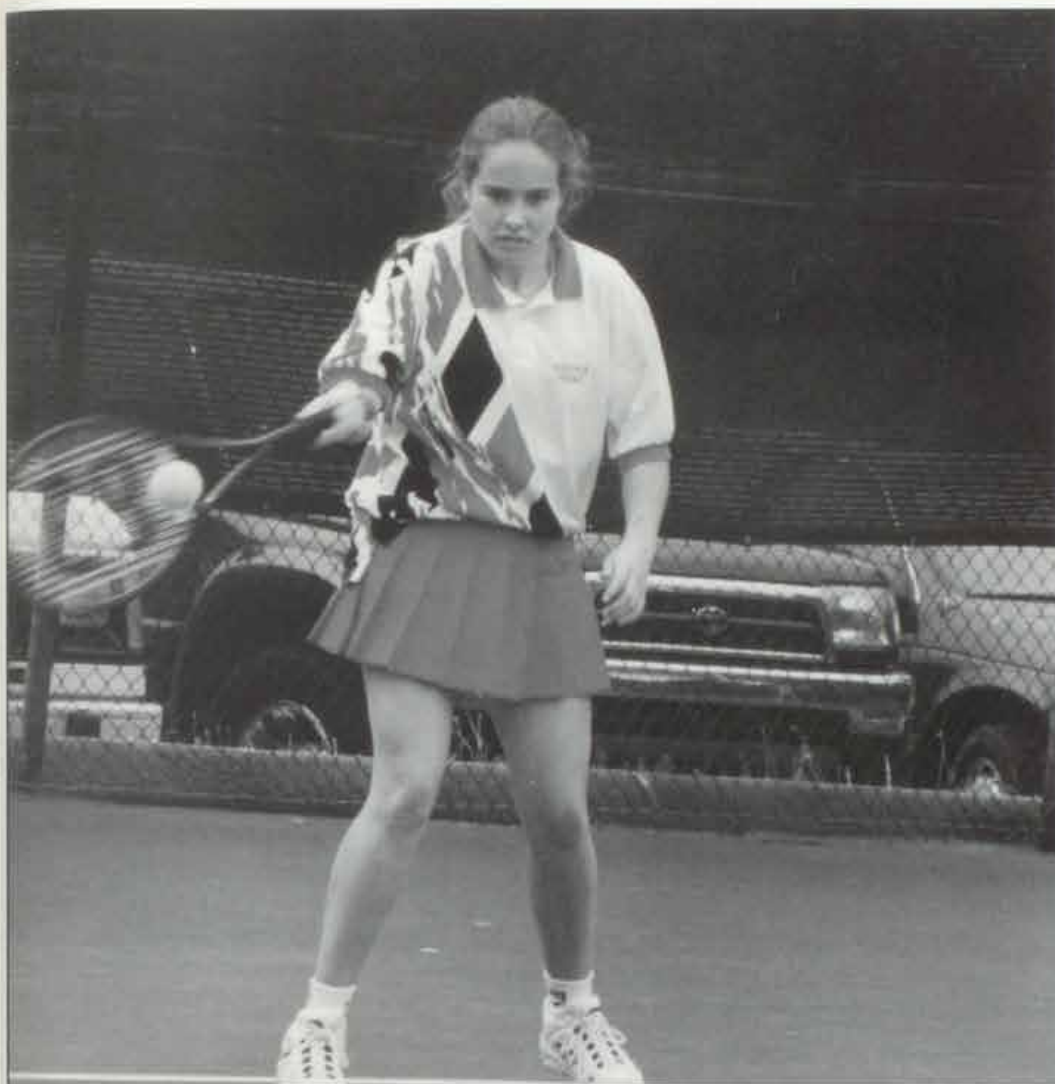

Emily Waltz, prepares for the incoming serve. The pairing of Waltz and Gettelfinger at number one doubles, proved to be a dynamic duo.

Freshman Caroline Goodnight anticipates her next volley. Goodnight played number three for the LadyCubs.

Regan Gettelfinger smashes a forceful serve at her opponent. This marked her fourth year on varsity at MCHS.

Proving concentration is the key to victory, Senior Kristen Ford keeps her eyes on the ball. Ford's strategy to win was to wear down her opponents by using the backboard approach.

Year in Review

- The team finished runner up in the BNL Invitational. The Cubs lost to the host by a slim margin of one point.
- Runner up in the Columbus East Tournament.
- Team placed fifth in HHC.
- The team was eliminated in the first round of Sectionals by Greensburg.

Seniors Dorothy Hoffmann and Jessie Henry help save a little bit of the planet by collecting recyclables for the National Honor Society. These two had an active role in the Madison Chapter

Student Council

This year the Student Council did many things to revive school spirit and provide many activities for the students at MCHS. "Student Council gives me a great opportunity to be involved with the student body and the community. It makes me feel good knowing that I help others and use my extra time for a great reason," says Junior Representative Sarah Brandenburg.

They held the first ever winter sports pep rally and had three dances after the Cubs basketball games. They also helped organize a benefit dance for the family of Amy Critchlow.

The council went out and bought Christmas presents for the residents of the Clifty Convalescence Nursing Home and for the students at the OVO Head Start Preschool. They delivered the presents the week before Christmas break and they were greatly appreciated.

The Student Council was also in charge of Homecoming, Mr. & Miss Cub, and the fall and winter Senior Nights. They also sold Cub Cards as a fund raiser.

Over all, it was a very productive and outstanding year for the Student Council. There was definitely a lot accomplished by all the members. "It was a great pleasure to work with a wonderful and outgoing council. I am pleased with what we accomplished," says Student Council President David Gaurino.

The members of Student Council gather at the weekly morning meetings. Some were often late but usually showed up sometime during the meeting.

Junior Kristin Griffith and Senior Jason Brown show you can dance just as friends. Most of the time at the Student Council dances, people just danced with anyone and everyone.

Senior Advisory Board

The Senior Advisory Board participated in numerous activities. The board organized senior t-shirts, the senior slide show, Graduation, and Honors Day.

The Senior T-shirts were designed by Senior Derek Black. Black remarks, "Cliff Taylor asked me to design it, so I did it." The T-shirts consists of a Cub on the front and all the names of the senior class on the back of the shirt. The board had a great sale with the special designed T-shirts.

The Senior Advisory Board also made sure the seniors had a last memory of all their special friends. They did this by presenting the Senior Slide Show, which consists of many pictures 7th grade - 12th grade. President Regan Gettelfinger said, "My goal was to get all 260 seniors in the slide show, because it's not just one group in the show, it is the whole class of '98." The slide show had music to go with the ideas of the show.

With graduation and honors day, the Advisory Board organized the student related activities, such as student speakers.

Officers:
Lisa Peters, secretary;
Haley Yount, vice president;
Regan Gettelfinger, president;
B.J. Gray, treasurer.

Junior Advisory Board

Even before the first day of school began a small group of people were emerging early a few morning a week to trudge themselves to school to begin preparing for the upcoming school year. The Advisory Board was here meeting and listening to sales people and trying to decide on what magazines the juniors would sell in the upcoming months about two or three weeks before anyone else was even thinking about school.

The magazines were sold to help raise money for the Junior Senior prom which was to be held in May of the next year. The Junior Ad Board along with a few other juniors made up the prom committee which completely planned the 98' prom. Everything was done by them from picking a date to deciding on balloon colors and arrangements, and as the day grew nearer and nearer everything fell into place.

Sophomore Advisory Board

As Sophomores enter their second year of high school they have some big decisions to make. Among those decisions comes class decisions the Sophomore Advisory Board has to make. Members of the board are: Mr. Caudill, advisor; Becky Cardinal, Kasey Frazier, Aaron Gray, Kevin Crabtree, Helen Miller, Katie Strandmark, Bridgett Edwards, and Tony Humes. Mr. Caudill has been the advisor of the board since 1972. Caudill commented that, "When there are things to get done they pull together and get their job done." The board decided to work together as a whole instead of electing officers for this year. Selecting the provider of class rings and decorating the halls during spirit weeks are their main responsibilities. Member Tony Humes said, "I decided to join the board because I wanted to become more active in our class decisions."

When asked why he returned this year as a board member, Tony Humes commented, "Taking part in class decisions was important to me."

This years Sophomore Advisory Board includes: Erin Gray, Tony Humes, and Becky Cardinal

Freshmen Advisory Board

The Freshmen Advisory Board consists of a group that together make important decisions for the Freshmen class. Some might think these people don't have much responsibility throughout the year, but they take part in many activities that their class participates in. The major activities that the group took part in this year were the annual selling of roses and carnations on Valentines Day. The group also helped in the planning of the Freshman Class Trip to Washington D.C. over spring break.

"The main reason I joined the Freshman Advisory Board was so that I can be in charge of things," stated board member Kayla Hawkins. Member Christen Adams stated, "I like having responsibilities and planning activities that concern my class". A new project that the board took part in was the planning of a Freshman, Sophomore dance held on April 17 in the High School Cafeteria. This marks the first year for a dance like this to be held here at the high school. The Freshman Dance was taken away when the Freshman were moved to the high school last year. The group felt this was a good idea since they no longer had a dance.

Members include:
Alisha Mustafa,
Christen Adams,
Cassie Eggers,
Ashley Andrew,
Rachel Deboard,
Katy Knouf,
Lindsay Johnson,
Katherine
Fourman, Andrea
Bridges, and Kayla Hawkins

In preparation for the spring dance, members Mustafa, Andrew, Adams, DeBoard, Knouf, Hawkins, Fourman, and Eggers debate on what decorations need to be ordered.

Peer Counseling

To become a peer counselor a student must have a desire to help people. After an application process, Mr. Kim Deffenbaugh will then interview the potential interested student. It is essential for a member to go to the meetings.

Mr. Deffenbaugh stated, "The Peer Counselors are involved in a wide variety of activities." Peer Counselors participate in many activities to help students. They talk to grade school children about drugs in the Dare Alcohol and Drug Prevention Program. The group also sponsors Red Ribbon week before prom and graduation. Peer counselors wear the ribbons and give announcements warning teens about the dangers of drinking and driving.

Some Peer Counselors take special training sessions to be able to go to the grade schools to work with the students. Junior Amanda Poling explained, "The reason I like going to E. O. Muncie is I enjoy working with kids and seeing them happy makes me happy."

Mr. Deffenbaugh recuperates after a meeting. He has advised the group for many years.

Peer Counselors wait in the library for a meeting to start. Peer Counselors devoted many long hours after school to the group.

National Honor Society

The National Honor Society took part in many new and wonderful activities this year. This year the NHS inducted 61 new members and along with the 62 old members. The main purpose and responsibility for NHS members is to help the community in any way possible. NHS members have many ways of fulfilling their required two hours of community service a month. Most students either tutor before or after school, or recycle after school on Wednesday. Along with the community service requirements students must also maintain a 3.3 GPA and have good character in the community.

This year the NHS was involved in many activities to help the less fortunate. The NHS took part in Toys-For-Tots which gives poor children toys for Christmas. They also took part in the canned food drive which gives needy families a Thanksgiving dinner. Additionally, they were involved in the Humanity Gift Wrap.

The National Honor Society gives out scholarships to the members who have filled the requirements and have played an important role in the NHS. This year the scholarships were given by a random drawing done at the induction ceremony in February. The recipients of the scholarships were Bridget Kelly and Aaron Pietrokowsky. Also the NHS chooses two members to compete for a national scholarship. This year the two members are Amanda Strickland and Amanda Runyon.

National Honor Society president Amanda Strickland prepares to light a candle at the induction ceremony. Strickland is also an active member of Peer Counseling.

Senior Kristen Ford helps to separate toys for Toy-For-Tots. Many NHS members volunteered there time and efforts for this activity.

Co-Hi-Y

Have you ever wondered who those dedicated people are selling the pizza at the basketball games? They are the humble members of Co-Hi-Y. Co-Hi-Y is a Christian service club whose platform is: clean speech, clean sports, clean scholarship, and clean living. In addition to selling pizza at basketball games, the club did a number of different fundraisers. However, most of the money did not go directly to the club. Co-Hi-Y used most of the money for charity, while the rest was used for scholarships.

Co-Hi-Y is a chance for Madison High School students to show their faith and stand up for what they believe in. Senior Annorah Adkins commented, "Serving as Sergeant-of-Arms for Co-Hi-Y has been a good experience for my Senior year. Even though teacher-initiated prayer is not allowed in school, we, the students still have an opportunity to have a club that involves that kind of stuff. I think that helps out a lot of people."

Co-Hi-Y President, Senior Ricky Spindler addresses the club during their February meeting. Spindler participated in many sports during high school and was also Chaplain of Co-Hi-Y during his junior year.

Spanish Club

The Spanish Club started the year off well. They participated in the annual event of selling pinatas as well as suckers and other food items at the Chitaqua. They raised approximately $800. The winners of the pinata contest were Melissa Buchanan and Jayme Hart for their dragon pinata. The best pinatas brought in as much as $50 each.

The annual trip to Chi- Chis was canceled due to lack of interest. The 53 active members in Spanish Club were led by: President Jayme Hart, Vice-President Melissa Buchanan, Secretary David Knouf, Treasurer Justin Geisler, and Historians Kari Park and John Hunter. The Spanish Club was sponsored by Spanish teacher Angela Elswick who has been the club sponsor for three years.

Juniors Heather Williams and Sarah Brandenburg soak up the warm fall air as they sell pinatas for the Spanish Club. This was the major fundraiser for the Spanish Club.

French Club

French club participated in many new activities this year. Several members have also started a mural painting in the E-Wing. Vice president Elizabeth Auxier stated, "I think we're getting a lot more accomplished this year. We have a great group of officers who devote a lot of time out of school. Madame Hill does a good job teaching us french culture."

Committees were formed for different activities, such as a mural painting, Mardi Gras. The committees were a new thing for the club this year and according to club members, they have seemed to be successful.

To fund the activities, the club had to do fund raisers. Instead of the annual candy grams, members bagged groceries at Foods Plus. Other activities included the Senior Dinner, the French Club Picnic held at Clifty Park in May, and Christmas Caroling at a nursing home.

The officers for the 1997-98 year were President Jessie Henry, Vice President Elizabeth Auxier, Secretary Meghan Jackson, Treasurer Tatum Lytle, and Historian Amanda Couch. The club advisor is Mrs. Barbara Hill.

French Club committee leaders include Aaron Pietrykowski, Bridgett Kelly, Jessie Henry, Meghan Jackson, Amanda Couch, Elizabeth Auxier, Mirana Jack, Tatum Lytle, and Molly Holt. Committees helped more members become involved in what interested them.

During a meeting, seinior friends Amanda Couch , Mirana Jack, and Bridgett Wolfe pose for picture. All three have been members all through high school.

German Club

German Club is run by the Great Herr Keach and President Gaeli Welch. The club earns money every year by selling doughnuts and they have saved the money until this semester. They planned to go out to eat at a German Restaurant to enjoy a German heartily. Members they were excited upcoming event.

History Club

The History club is sponsored by history teacher Keith Alexander. He has been sponsoring the club for over 20 years. The club participated in many activities this year, including a trip to I.U. to see a performance of Our Town. The club also went caroling during The Candle Light Tour of Homes, they went on a field trip to Indianapolis, collected coats for those in need, and had Ms. Linda Lytle from the Madison Tourism board as a guest speaker at a history club meeting.

The biggest accomplishment achieved by the club this year was their very successful coat drive for the needy. Junior Katie Hoffman said of the drive, "It made me happy to help the needy people by helping them get warm coats." The club was led by tri-presidents Jessica Henry, Cassie Miller, Amanda Runyon, and vice president Hannah Willage.

History club members include: Cassie Miller, Wilbur Dattillo, Amanda Runyon, Leah Schroer, Christy Wolfshlag, Grace Keiser, Kathy Walro, Bridget Kelly, Kevin Christophers, Leanne Reffett, Brent Wooden, Katie Hoffman, Rochelle Smith, Jessica Henry, Jon Hunter, and Eric Jones

Varsity M Club

Every year the "M" Club works the concession stands at the basketball games to raise money. One of the things some of that money is used for is the annual "M" Club picnic. The picnic is usually held at Clifty State Park, if it rains they will usually go somewhere like Mr. Gattis.

A couple of reasons why the "M" Club was put together was to help promote fellowship of athletes and to promote the athletic programs as one unit. The adults in charge of the "M" Club are Varsity Baseball Coach Gary O'Neal and Varsity Football Coach Al Wilcox.

Officers are: Senior Lisa Peters, co-president; Senior Patrick Murray, co-president; Junior Chad Liter, co-vice president; Junior Sayra Hoskins, co-vice president; and Senior Dustin Bentz, secretary; Darryl Yarbrough, treasurer. Senior Patrick Murray stated, "I love being co-president because it gives me a chance to be an example to my fellow peers." Also Senior Lisa Peters commented, "It's enjoyable because I help decide what goes on in the club."

"M" Club officers are: Dustin Bentz, Patrick Muurray, Sayra Hoskins, Lisa Peters, Chad Liter, and Darryl Yarbrough.

IBA

This year was the 20th year that Keith Alexander (KA) organized the Intermural Basketball Association (IBA). Ten teams participated in the games every Tuesday night for five months. Division I teams, consisting of juniors and seniors, included: M.O.B., Splinters, Bentz Empire, Moon Dogs, Festivaas, and the Blazers. Sophomores and freshmen played in Division II. Teams in this division were: Red Army, Canaan Crew, Quick Silvers, and the Underdogs.

The Splinters, with team members including Brad Smith, Greg Goodknight, Jon Rosser, Joe Jenner, Chris Scott, Ryan Mahoney, Brandon Mathis, Ryan Meyers, and Kyle Harsin, won the tournament, beating M.O.B. in the championship game. The tourney champions got a chance to participate in a game, held annually, against the school faculty team. Only once in the past 20 years in IBA's existence have the students beaten the faculty in this game. This year marked the second time in history for this event to take place. Joe Jenner stated, in reference to his brother being on the previous winning team, "Teachers shouldn't mess with a family thing."

Keith Cox tries to avoid defenders Jon Buxton and Cris Caudill to go up for a shot. Cox was a member of the team M.O.B.

Members of the Splinters include Brad Smith, Greg Goodknight, Jon Rosser, Joe Jenner, Chris Scott, Ryan Mahoney, Brandon Mathis, Ryan Meyers, and Kyle Harsin. They beat the teacher's team for the second time in school history.

FCA

Fellowship of Christian Athletes is a positive group to partake in at MCHS. Senior member Amy Hoffman commented, "FCA has been a wonderful experience for me. I love being able to spend time with my friends in a positive Christian environment."

FCA is open to any high school student who is involved in athletics and holds Christians beliefs. The group meets three times a month with about 35 students attending.

The group participated with the Salvation Army in two community projects, ringing bells at K-Mart and giving a Christmas basket to a family in need. A new activity of the group was attending a different church once a month. The different churches that were visited were: First Baptist, Calvary Baptist, Prince of Peace, and Madison Community. President Lisa Peters stated, "It was a neat experience going to other people's churches. You learned some neat things."

Peters was the president, while Sarah Cooper, Regan Gettelfinger, and Hoffman were all huddle leaders. All four of the leaders have participated in FCA for four years. Mr. Benny Newell led the group for his 26th year.

Sophomore Lindsay Imel said, "I have a great time and you meet new friends each year. I'm looking forward to the

Poetry Club

This MCHS Club is in its second year. It was started to give students a chance to use their creative talents in a different form of writing. The poetry club advisor is its founder, Mrs. Kelly Ross. "Poetic writing is sometimes overlooked in the classroom", stated Mrs. Ross, "so this gives the students a chance to try new things."

Mrs. Ross and the club are once again publishing the Madison High School Literary Magazine, but this is the first year that it will be open to all grades. This publication was designed to show off the writing ability of any Madison student. All selections in the magazine were chosen by Mrs. Ross and her poetry club. This year the price of the magazine has been lowered to $1.00.

Another new addition was a Poetry Reading. The Reading allowed any student, faculty, or any one that enjoyed listening, reading, or writing poetry a forum to express their creativity.

Poetry Club members include: Cassie Miller, Evan Davis, Jami Hart, Kelly Hoagland, Anne Maas, Tylr Moor, Kim Stoner and Mrs. Ross.

Drama Club

This year's Drama Club, led by Mr. Bill Lindquist, was a big success. They were involved in a lot of activities this year. The club was in charge of putting on the fall play, Up the Down Staircase. They traveled to Louisville to the Derby Dinner Playhouse to watch My Fair Lady with the History Club. The group also performed a Christmas program for the Salvation Army as well as travelling to Indiana University with the History Club to watch the play Our Town. The club held a banquet to award all of their Thespian winners. Several students also earned Drama Letters.

Mr. Bill Lindquist stated, "This year's group was very talented, and they worked hard at everything they did." He also said, "This club was very fun to work with." The Drama Club had a very successful year, and everyone enjoyed working together.

Officers:

President: Mirana Jack

Vice President: James Thur

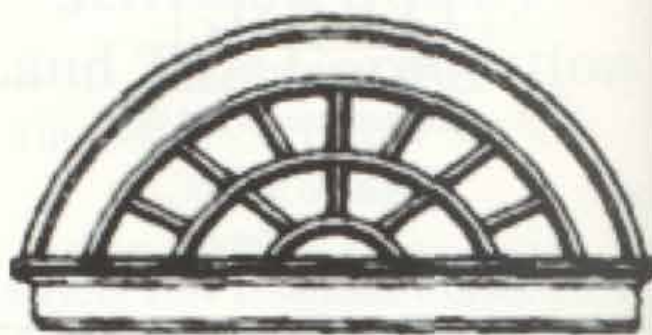

Secretary: Melissa Buchanan

Treasurer: Elizabeth Auxier

Historian: Amanda Strickland

Junior Elizabeth Auxier and Senior Mirana Jack instruct part of a drama club meeting. Auxier and Jack were both officers of this year's Drama Club.

FCC

"Hark the Herald angels sing. Glory to the newborn king."
The music rang out through the nursing home at Christmas time. Gifts of lotions, colognes, and bath items were handed out to the elderly as a jester of Christmas and giving.

The Madison Chapter of the FCC (known last year as the FHA) engaged in community service projects and raised money for the club by bake sales and fund raisers. This group of 25 students were advised again this year by Ms. Carpenter.

Jeff Obertate stated, "FCC to me is friendship." FCC is a group of males and females working together to help the community and discuss the careers they want to pursue. "FCC to me is an organization that helps benefit our community," stated Kelly Hannah. They also learn about the importance of family. FCC stands for Families, Communities, and Careers. "I enjoy working and having fun with all the members. They all have a good time, laugh a lot, and work hard for the good of the community," stated Ms. Carpenter.

The FCC made "Angels for Amy." This was a way to help out a person in need. Everyone wanted the beaded angels and Amy's mom couldn't make them all on her own Ms. Carpenter decided. The FCC and her decided to help out. They made the angels and then sold them for a dollar each. The money went towards the price of the beads and Amy's medical bills. Before Amy passed away this year, the angels were a constant reminder to pray for Amy. Now that Amy is gone, they are a simple reminder of Amy and the fight against leukemia she fought for her life.

Every year the FCC earns points for each activity they participate in. At the end of each year they total up the points and after so many points they earn a free ticket to Kentucky Kingdom. The trip is a reward for all the hard work they've done for the community each year. This years trip was held on Saturday, May 23.

The officers for FCC included: Edgar Tam, president; Erin Sooy, vice president; Heidi Morris, secretary; Amy Bibb, treasurer; and Lindsey Dalglish, recorder.

Junior Angela Lee helps out the FCC club at one of the car washes the FCC held this year. This is Angela's second year in the club, and she has been very active both year's.

FFA

Competition, tons of fun, and a chance to meet new people. This is what you find at the Madison Chapter of the FFA. It's a combination of guys and girls working together to learn more about agriculture and leadership. Not all of the members plan on farming for a living, but it helps to learn how to if they need to or if they should want to grow better flowers in their yards. Senior Amanda Phillips has been in FFA for two years and says, "I love FFA because it relates to my background and teaches me more about agriculture." Junior Amanda Coy states, "It's a way to meet a lot of different guys in wrangler jeans."

The Madison Chapter Officers include President Amanda Coy, Vice President Matthew Schafer, Secretary Bill Graham, Treasurer Jimmy Long, Reporter Levi Neff, and Sentinel Jason Huff. Their advisor is Mrs. Jill Deputy.

Seniors Randy Hazelwood and Derek Hamilton look at one of the projects the Supervised Agriculture Experience class made this year. Agriculture classes covered a wide variety of subjects related to the field.

The sound of a big yellow bus as it sat patiently outside of the school doors while a group of active high school kids climbed aboard. The kids were of all sizes and ages, wearing Wrangler jeans, boots of all sorts, and the blue corduroy FFA jacket. This is our Madison Chapter of the FFA.

Our FFA did more than learn about agriculture. They went to the Farm Machinery Show, judging contests, and they participated in community service projects. They were a club on the move. They went places to help others and learn more about agriculture and leadership. This year's FFA made about $4,000 profit in their annual fruit sale. The members had to sell 10 cases of fruit in order to earn their free ticket to the Farm Machinery Show where they attended the Tractor Pulls on February 12, 1998. Sophomore Matt James stated, "I didn't know how much fruit we had to sell. I just kept selling."

Our FFA also got involved in the first ever community service projects involving third graders all over the county. This included Southwestern and Pope John. Our FFA along with Southwestern's FFA and Farm Bureau hosted individual sessions to learn more about production agriculture. They participated in this project to help the elementary schools learn more. They also did it to help Farm Bureau because they were personally asked for their help.

FFA members competed in several contests throughout the year. Sophomore Jeff Royalty stated, "I participate in crop, livestock, and soil judging. All of FFA is fun." Some were interested in specific areas such as horses or beef, while others diversified into all areas. "They learn leadership skills, teamwork, and problem solving skills in these activities while meeting new people and having fun," stated Mrs. Jill Deputy.

Members of the FFA talk during a short break at the tractor pulls. This is an annual trip that most of the members of the group look forward to every year.

Through the past year we have all bonded, made new friends, and made many new memories that we will never forget.

GO BIG RED! This was the chant we heard from our basketball players turned cheerleaders at the first annual sectional pep rally. The boys, Bubba Yarbrough, Bryan Bullington, Chris Westall, Chad Liter, Kyle Oliver, Nick Griffith, were decked out in short skirts, pom pom, and right down to the bows in their hair. Leading the crowd the boys were looking for their captain, much to the surprise fo the crowd, Mr. Jim Lee, MCHS atheltic director, came out in a cheerleading outfit with a mop on his head for hair. Just when we thought the excitement was over the "real" cheerleaders came out showing us their game. With basketballs flying in the air, some making the shots and some not, the crowd was in hysteria.

The rally must have really got the Cubs going. The Cubs got fired up and beat Greensburg in the sectionals, defeated their rivals, the Scottsburg Warriors, during the Regional. There was only one regional game due to the change of the class system. The Cubs made Senior Valedictorian John Hunter, recieves an award from Mr. Jerry Dougan. Hunter was one of many honored at the honor day.

Nick Mecham and Jonathan Newell discuss a topic at an FCA meeting. Group sharing was a major part of every meeting.

Spring Break was, as always, a huge event among the students of MCHS. Some of student body went vacationing all over and the many of the Seniors headed to the traditional spot of Panama City Beach. When the week came to an end many of the breakers didn't want to get back into the swing of the daily grime of school work.

In mid April the class of '98 received their announcements for graduation which sent them into an end of the year frenzy. Following the Seniors outbreak of Senioritis the rest of the students begin to get anxious about the winding down of the 1997-1998 school year.

As the seniors try to grasp every minute of the remaining high school days the other students of MCHS just took their days for granted and anticipated teh days of the summer. With the end of school year approaching quickly the school corporation came under fire by the North Central Association. The investigation came about because of teh accusations of micromanagement. Summer approaching and investigations within the school, the students of MCHS are leaving for the summer with their Destination Unknown.

Senior band member David Knouf concentrates on the music he plays. Knouf has been involved inband for four years.

Melissa Fletcher and Amanda Brinson help each other with the making of the beenie weenies. Each student had to be active each day to get participation points in Foods and Nutrition.

Senior Pam Brown, shows off one of her many talents. With a one hour rain delay at Columbus East, the tennis team had to find activities to occupy their time.

Many senior spring breakers took to the roads in March to venture to various vacation spots. Panama Beach was this years favorite spot to tan and hang out with friends.

Nicole Click and Esteban Martinez shows off their moves at the Sophomore and Freshman Dance. The dance was sponsored by the Freshman Advisory Board.

Senior Jessi Henry is on her way to receiving another scholarship. Henry made many trips on the stage throughout the day.
